U.S. Guarantees Safety

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The leader of rebellious Vietnamese Army forces in Hue, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, was flown under a U.S. guarantee of safety today to a secret meeting with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Ky flew from Saigon to meet his bitter rival as U.S. planes evacuated 45 Americans and other foreign civilians from Hue and the Buddhist stronghold's pro-government mayor moved out of the city with 1,000 loyal troops to a fortified headquarters five miles southeast of Hue.

Ky and Thi, whom the premier had fired as commander of the army's 1st Corps on March 10, met at the U.S. 1st Marine Division's headquarters at Chu Lai, about 85 miles south of Hue.

Ky's dismissal of Thi, who controlled South Viet Nam's five northern provinces, precipitated the country's present political crisis. Politically minded Buddhist leaders seized on the unrest the ouster generated in the north and converted it into a movement demanding the military government's replacement by a civilian regime.

U.S. officials had tried before without success to get Ky and Thi together in hopes some agreement could be reached which might lead to an easing of the political crisis.

A U.S. plane brought Thi from Hue to Chu Lai to meet Ky, then flew him back to Hue after the meeting.

There was no immediate indication of what transpired between the two generals.

"All we know was it was a very solid session," an authoritative source said. "They met for some time."

No Americans were present at the meeting although it was held at the Marine headquarters. There were reports other members of Ky's ruling junta were present.

The evacuation of Americans from Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, followed the burning of the U.S. Information Service library there Thursday by a mob of Buddhist youths. A U.S. spokesman in Saigon said the American consul in Hue, Thomas Corcoran, had apparently requested the evacuation, because there was insufficient protection for American personnel and facilities.

The spokesman said half a dozen "essential" Americans remained in Hue.

Two U.S. planes flew the evacuees to Saigon. They included American aid personnel, construction employes, relief workers, teachers, and some Filipinos, Canadians, Nationalist Chinese and West Germans.

Police in Saigon, meanwhile, clashed repeatedly with Buddhist demonstrators but dispersed them every time. One crowd of about 1,000 charged a jeepload of police but shots in the air, tear gas and reinforce-

Bill Passed Setting Pay Minimums

Senate Action Set On Measure Which Broadens Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has given overwhelming approval to a bill that would increase the minimum wage to $1.60 an hour by 1969 and cover another 7.2 million workers. The measure goes now to the Senate where supporters predict it may be expanded further.

The 303-93 House vote Thursday sending the bill to the Senate marked a substantial victory for President Johnson and the AFL-CIO, which hasn't fared too well this year with its other legislative proposals.

In the Senate, the bill's supporters said today they hope to get Labor Committee approval next month. The committee completed its public hearings on the legislation last year.

Supporters said they were confident the Senate would pass a bill fully as broad as the House version and perhaps even extend the coverage to a few more groups of employes.

Senate action is complicated by a vacancy in the chairmanship of the Labor subcommittee which must handle the bill. The post was held by the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., is expected to be named soon to fill the vacancy.

The bill's managers lost one round in the House Thursday but there were indications this helped consolidate support for the measure.

In this skirmish, the House voted 205 to 193 to delay one year the second step increase taking the wage floor to $1.60. The new date will be Feb. 1, 1969. The provision boosting the present $1.25 an hour figure to $1.40 next Feb. 1 was left undisturbed.

AFL-CIO leaders said they would try to get the Senate to return to the 1968 date for the $1.60 minimum.

Attempts To Burn Home

Warren Man Slays Wife, Four Children, Then Self

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A 31-year-old former mental patient shot and stabbed his wife to death, killed their four children, then took his own life after setting fire to his house early today.

Sheriff Rober Barnett said the man, Michael Collins, apparently killed is family as they slept.

He said Collins' wife, Minnie, 26, was stabbed repeatedly with a hunting knife and bludgeoned before she was shot once in the head with a rifle. Her partly clad body was found in bed.

The four children were shot several times in the head as they slept in their beds, Barnett said.

Collins, shot in the head, was found slumped on a couch, the .22 caliber rifle across his chest.

The bodies were found by Collins' brother, Jake, who lives nearby. He saw smoke coming from the house and broke down a door after he could not raise anybody, Barnet said. The fire was not serious, Barnett said. Smoldering rags were found in the attic of the one-story frame house.

The youngest child, Viola, 3, was shot twice in the chest and twice in the head. The eldest son, David, 7, was shot three times in the head. Andy, 6, and Silas, 4, each were shot twice in the head.

Mrs. Collins was clad in a brassiere and panties. The children were wearing night clothes.

The Collins home is in a predominantly Negro area about a mile from Warren Barnett said. They are negroes, he said.

The coroner, Dr. Joseph Sudimack Jr., gave a tentative ruling of murder and suicide.

Collins, a laborer at the steel plant who had not worked recently, bought the rifle in Warren April 23, Barnett said. But he said "I don't think it had been planned."

Nobody heard the shot, apparently fired between midnight and 6:30 a.m., Barnett said.

Collins had been under treatment at a mental hospital in nearby Youngstown, Dr. Sudimack said. He had been a patient in the hospital in February. Barnett said Collins had not been working recently at the Republic Steel Corp. plant because he said he did not feel well.

Spain Eyes NATO Role, Market Bid

Franco Interested In Economic Links With 6-Nation Gro

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spain again is making diplomatic soundings about tying in with the European Common Market and, perhaps at some future time, with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was reported today.

Diplomatic sources said Madrid seeks early negotiations with the European economic committee on her bid for some form of association with the six-nation continental market group.

Spain also was described as hoping for a NATO link after the troubled Atlantic defense organization takes its new shape. France is pulling out of the integrated military system July 1 and the other 14 NATO allies meet in Brussels June 6-8 to weigh how to revamp it.

It was understood Spain seeks U.S. support in its common market bid and also has made approaches in other capitals. It was reported encountering resistance from Italy, Holland and Belgium, three of the market countries. The other three are West Germany, France and Luxembourg.

Because of its past record with the Axis powers, Spain has been something of an outcast in the postwar political alignment among the Allies. Opposition to Spain's membership in NATO has continued especially strong in north European socialist ranks and Madrid has not turned in a formal application for membership.

The United States has maintained large air bases in Spain, however, and with France's divorce from the NATO defense setup the question of military bases, overflight and other rights in Spain could become increasingly important.

1966 Action Doubted

Congress 'Cool' To Vote Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospect appeared bleak today for congressional action on President Johnson's latest proposals to tighten controls over campaign contributions and spending.

The President's suggestion Thursday for a $100 income tax deduction for political donations got some bipartisan support, but the verdict of many lawmakers was nothing would come of it this election year.

Because of this mixed reception, Johnson's bill seems headed for the same kind of cold storage treatment encountered by similar bills he sponsored as a senator.

At one point when he was majority leader, Johnson introduced a "clean elections" bill and got 87 senators to co-sponsor it. It never was called up for action in the Senate.

The Senate incorporated some proposals similar to Johnson's in a 1961 bill that required fuller disclosure of campaign financing. It carried even fewer teeth than a measure the Senate passed the year before.

Both were pigeonholed by the House. When the Senate approved a $50 deduction for political contributions in the 1964 tax cut bill, House conferees forced it out of the measure.

Chairman Omar Burleson, D-Tex., said his House Administration Committee may hold some hearings on the new Johnson measure, but didn't voice any particular enthusiasm for it. And word was circulating it was too late in the session to expect House action.

Tests Pushed For Gemini's Space Chase

2 Astronauts Study Plans For Revised Agena Target Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Gemini 9 spaceship has gone through three practice countdowns to enable technicians to check its complex electronic systems and inflight procedures.

At another pad a moon landing Surveyor craft was hoisted toward the tip of the Gemini booster rocket as the space agency headed for an end of the month spectacular.

Backup astronauts James A. Lovell Jr. a Navy captain, and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., an Air Force major, were at the controls for Thursday's tests. They took over to give prime pilots Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan time to rehearse what Stafford calls a "far more challenging" flight plan than originally was slated before their Agena target satellite plopped into the Atlantic May 17, ruining Gemini 9's first try.

For Air Force Lt. Col. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Cernan, who plan to chase a substitute target satellite into space Tuesday, Thursday's activities consisted of a detailed review of their revised flight plan and several hours inside a practice capsule.

Rescue Efforts Fail

Weirton Boy, 15, Drowns In Pond

A 15-year-old youth, who apparently became tangled in weeds, drowned while swimming in a pond north of Weirton Thursday night.

He was Bruce Alberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Alberts of Pennsylvania Ave., Weirton.

Authorities said Alberts had gone fishing with three other youths at the pond, located on the Michael Starvaggi farm, and then decided to go swimming.

When he cried out for help, his companions formed a human chain. One youth said he was able to clutch Alberts' hair, but could not swim himself and had to let go.

The body was recovered from about 15 feet of water some 45 minutes later by Lou Pasco, caretaker at the farm, who was assisted by members of the Weirton police department and volunteer firemen.

Young Alberts was a ninth-grade student at Weir Junior High School.

The Steel & Wolfe Funeral Home in Weirton is in charge of arrangements.

Peace Seen Nearer For Indonesians

End Of War Hinted After Friendly Visit By Malaysia Group

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said today a surprise visit by an Indonesian military delegation to Kuala Lumpur promises an end to the 3-year-old undeclared war between the two countries.

"You now can see the ending of the confrontation," Razak said after talks with the delegation of eight high officers.

The Indonesians came to Kuala Lumpur today to complete preparations for peace talks between Razak and Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik which start in Bangkok, Thailand Monday.

The visit has "definitely created a very congenial and happy atmosphere" for the meeting, Razak said, adding the Indonesians now "are ready to make peace and end confrontation."

"They have put complete confidence in us," he said, pointing to the fact that most of the officers in the delegation came from the staff of the "Crush Malaysia" command.

The group, led by Rear Adm. O. B. Sjaaf and Brig. Gen. Kemal Idris of Kogam, brought it a message of good wishes and good will to Malaysian government leaders.

Malaysian officials embraced the Indonesians as they stepped off their plane and then took them to Razak. The Indonesian officers later flew to the northern city of Alor Star to meet with Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman who is vacationing there.

The officers are believed to be the first Indonesian officials to visit Malaysia since President Sukarno launched his campaign to crush the new federation of former British territories three years ago.

Sukarno had charged Malaysia was a device to maintain British power in southeast Asia and thus a threat to Indonesia. Western observers generally considered Sukarno most feared Malaysia would block his ambitions to dominate the area.

Chimps Show Space Suit Tear Need Not Be Fatal

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP) — School trained chimpanzees, pioneers in exposure to the airless void of space, are helping the space agency define safety limits for space walking astronauts.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan is scheduled for a 2-hour, 25-minute space walk during the Gemini 9 flight. Data from the chimp tests to date indicate Cernan could be rescued if suddenly exposed directly to the vacuum of space.

The animals are part of the Chimp College at Holloman Air Force Base near Alamogordo. Enos and Ham, astrochimps who rode rockets into space, were trained at the school.

Since 1964 the 6571st Aeromedical Research Laboratory at Holloman has been conducting tests for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in which the chimps are exposed in rapid decompression chambers to simulated altitudes of 150,000 feet. An astronaut would encounter such an altitude should his space suit rip or his face plate break during a space walk.

Alfred G. Koestler, director of the tests, said results are rewriting altitude physiology textbooks. Previously scientists believed direct exposure to space vacuum would result in death, with the blood boiling and the lack of atmospheric pressure possibly leading to the body expanding and even bursting.

Koestler reports more optimistic results with the chimps, generally regarded as the animal physiologically closest to man.

"All our healthy chimps have survived in excellent physical health," Koestler said in an interview.

Cubans Enter Guantanamo, Shots Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Cuban soldiers slipped through the Guantanamo Naval Base perimeter and engaged in gunfire with sentries Monday night, the Defense Department said today.

A spokesman said the Cubans fired on sentries and the base defenders returned fire. The Cubans then fled with no apparent wounds.

This new incident came only two days after a Marine sentry killed a Cuban soldier who reportedly penetrated the base boundary fence and then fled.

A Pentagon spokesman said there have been 11 such incidents so far this year.

No explanation was given for the increased Cuban efforts to gain access to the base.

After Saturday's fatal wounding of a Cuban soldier, Cuba's armed forces minister, Raul Castro, demanded that the United States abandon the naval base.

In its version of the shooting, the Pentagon said a Marine sentry fired on an armed Cuban soldier when he ignored a warning shot.

Final plans for Wellsville's Memorial Day parade Monday at 9:30 a. m. were outlined during a meeting of the Veterans Memorial Council Thursday night at American Legion Post 70.

The program will open with rites at 8:45 a. m. at the Roadside Park on Wells Ave.

The parade will be led by the Wellsville High School Band.

A flag-raising ceremony will be held at the 4th St. Memorial Park, with Rev. I. Melville Wohrley offering prayer.

The parade will end at Springhill Cemetery, where an "eternal flame" will be lighted. Mayor William Daugherty will be master of ceremonies.

The Rev. James Sanko will offer prayer.

The Gettysburg Address will be read, along with the poem "In Flanders Field."

A firing squad will fire a salute to the dead and taps will be sounded.

The color guard will include William Spires, a World War I veteran, and Dohrman Householder, World War II veteran.

Officers in charge are Dorhman Rosenlieb, Samuel Maylone and Richard Carter, marshals; Melvin G. Boggs, adjutant, and Fred Leughmyer, officer of the day.

Rosenlieb is president of the Memorial Council, which is comprised of representatives from the three veterans organizations.

The city's park areas and the Springhill Cemetery have been readied for the weekend.

Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare said all city fountains have been turned on, with the statuary in place and colored lights installed at the fountain near the floodwall on Lisbon St.

Chief Urges Caution For Holiday Travels

Motorists planning trips on the long Memorial Day weekend should plan carefully and remember to be especially cautious because the first warm weather holiday of the year is expected to bring out an unusually heavy influx of traffic, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi warned today.

Drivers preparing for long trips should time their departure early — taking into account the heavy traffic — so they will arrive at their destinations on time without speeding or taking chances, the chief reminded.

Those traveling great distances should take regular "breaks" away from the wheel, halting for tea or coffee or simply walking around the parked auto for a few minutes to loosen their tired muscles and shake off road fatigue, he said.

Midland Gets $171,000 In EDA Grant

The Economic Development Administration has approved a grant of $171,000 to aid in the enlargement of the Midland water system to serve expanding industry, Congressman Frank M. Clark announced today in Washington.

The funds will be used for the extension of water mains, construction of a storage reservoir and to improve the capacity of the booster station.

Construction is expected to be completed within 18 months.

The authority submitted an application late in March.

The next step will be the preparation of detailed plans and advertising for bids.

Silva Given Backing For Brazil Post

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The way appeared clear today for election of War Minister Arthur Da Costa E Silva to Brazil's presidency — and continuance of military rule — following his nomination as the government's candidate.

Costa E Silva was the only name put before the national convention of the government's National Renewal Alliance (ARENA) Thursday, but 25 of the 361 delegates cast blank ballots and there were a few write-ins.

The government party has a 2-1 majority in Congress, which will elect the next president and vice president Oct. 3. Election day will be Costa E Silva's 64th birthday.

Costa E Silva and his vice presidential running mate, Education Minister Pedro Aleixo, won unanimous endorsement of their party's national directorate after a recent informal poll of political leaders in Brazil's 22 states.

Before the poll, President Humberto Castello Branco told party leaders he considered Costa E Silva eminently qualified for the job.

Until then, some political observers had thought the president might try to torpedo the candidacy of his old friend and military academy classmate. Asscociates of Castello Branco, the former army chief of staff, thought he preferred to be succeeded by a civilian to give the impression the military was relinquishing dominance over the government.

Costa E Silva was an obscure army general until the military overthrew President Joao Goulart in 1964 and he became war minister.

Dodd Cuts Claim In Libel Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd has revised his conspiracy and libel suit against columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, shortening the list of allegations, scaling down his damage claims to $2 million and asking for a speedy trial.

Dodd's original suit, filed May 6, asked for a $5 million judgment against the columnists, whose charges of improper conduct against the Connecticut Democrat are being investigated by the Senate Ethics Committee. Dodd requested the committee investigate the charges against him, saying he had nothing to conceal.

The revised complaint reduces from 14 to three the specific claims of libel and also asks the case be assigned to a single federal judge to speed up pretrial proceedings.

Dodd said he hoped this would permit all preliminary procedures to be completed in June so trial could begin in July.

Storms Rip Texas Areas

By The Associated Press

Cloudbursts and violent electrical storms left heavy flood and fire damage in parts of west Texas today.

Water turned streets into small rivers and lapped over the doorsteps into some homes at Midland, an oil field center of 70,000 people, as an estimated 3 inches of rain poured down.

At Andrews, 40 miles northwest of Midland, muddy torrents flowed six feet deep after 2.75 inches of rain descended in 30 minutes.

Fire started by lightning destroyed a warehouse containing about 2,000 bales of cotton farther west at Pyote.

Small blazes also broke out in at least two houses at Midland as lightning flickered on all sides.

State Police received an unconfirmed report a tornado funnel writhed through the air just south of Odessa. They found no evidence it touched ground.

Flooding was widespread on the west side of Midland and some cars washed off U.S. 80. Police said all motorists were able to wade to safety.

Some witnesses estimated at least 2 inches of rain fell within an hour at Midland. It was accompanied by hail up to three-fourths of an inch thick.

Lightning split trees at Andrews, where both electrical and telephone service were disrupted temporarily.

The storms reached their height shortly before midnight while a wide stretch of west Texas was under a severe weather alert.

Heavy rains fell at many points. A 2.22-inch downpour drenched the area around Hunt, 13 miles west of Kerrville in the southwest Texas hill country. The U.S. Weather Bureau said the resulting runoff would cause a rise of 10 to 15 feet on the upper Guadalupe River.

The rain splashed across the southland from western Texas to the Carolinas and Florida. Nearly four inches of rain doused Florence, S.C., in a 12-hour period.

4 Area Motorists Fined By Arfman

Four East Liverpool area motorists were fined and the hearing for a fifth was rescheduled for later after he pleaded innocent in County Court at East Palestine before Judge Herbert Arfman Thursday.

U.S. Needs Space Goals, Aide Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief of the manned space flight program says the United States has not been able to catch up with the Soviet Union in manned space flight despite this nation's successes.

In an address to the Aviation Space Writer's Association Thursday, Dr. Georoge E. Mueller also warned the United States is in danger of losing its momentum in the space race unless new goals are established soon.

Mueller, associate administrator for manned space flight of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, says a critical space gap exists although the U.S. program, when set up in 1961, was designed to achieve space superiority by 1970.

However, Mueller said the Project Apollo goal of landing a man on the moon this decade has a good chance of being realized, dependent on the success of ground and flight tests now under way.

He criticized a decline in the Apollo project's engineering effort because of what he called the lack of a definite program beyond a moon landing.

Class Of '66–Best Ever

It is time again for commencement addresses —time for baccalaureates—time for valedictorians and salutatorians.

One message should ring forth repeatedly.

It would be unseemly for the Gloomy Guses of this era to tell young people at commencement time about shortcomings that have been magnified by pessimists and cynics.

It would be tactless to harp on aspects of the upcoming generation that critical members of the departing generation don't like.

There always have been aspects of the upcoming generation that the departing generation didn't like, and chief among them was the youthfulness of the upcomers.

But it always turned out the same way.

The oldsters knew in their hearts the youngsters were the hope of the world. They remembered that they once had been youngsters, subject to criticism. And they remembered the criticism.

Wasn't it wonderful, all things considered, that they turned out to be upstanding citizens and sterling individuals for the most part? To be sure, they had their quota of misfits, failures, crooks, ne'er-do-wells and rumdums, but it was not unduly large.

Neither was it magnified. There was no national obsession about the faults of the young. Boys would be boys; girls would be girls.

No one in his right mind would have dared to say young people were worse than they ever had been before. It was the fashion then to see the world whole, not as fragments viewed in a fun-house mirror.

Class of '66—the best ever.

We'd better believe it, because it's true.

Sound Advice For Motorists

The heaviest traffic of 1966 to date is expected to jam the nation's highways for the Memorial Day weekend as families by the thousands take to resorts or make long trips as part of the first warm holiday of the year.

Well aware that many who start off on happy holiday trips will wind up as traffic statistics, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi has issued a series of worthwhile tips to district motorists.

He suggests that all plan trips carefully, recognizing that highways will be crowded to capacity.

He suggests that all plan trips carefully, recognizing that highways will be crowded to capacity.

He warns that drivers preparing for long trips should time their departure early, taking into account the expected heavy traffic, so they will arrive at their destinations on time without speeding or driving carelessly.

Those on long trips also should take regular breaks away frim the wheel, the chief cautions. Make a coffee stop at a roadside restaurant or simply halt the car at the roadside and walk around for a few minutes to loosen tired muscles and shake off road fatigue, he advises.

It's all sound advice, and if heeded it may help bring you home again safely, ready to resume workaday activities Tuesday morning.

This Makes It Semi-Official

Chances are the next time an unmarried woman is asked if she minds being a spinster she will stuff the questioner's mouth with a newspaper clipping about a study by Dr. Genevieve Knupfer.

Dr. Knupfer is a psychiatrist at the Mental Research Institute in Berkeley, Calif. Her study was financed by the National Institute of Mental Health, which is an agency in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

And what did she find that will cause spinsters—unmarried women, that is—to equip themselves with clippings? Like most studies of this kind, she found what most people know.

She found that most unmarried women—spinsters—are well-adjusted and reasonably contented. If people feel they should shower pity on their fellowmen who are not married, they should save it for bachelors.

Bachelors tend to be misfits, outcasts and oddballs. They are not happy about their lot in life. Rarely do they have the gay old time married men customarily ascribe to them.

That is because married men imagine what they would do if they were bachelors for a while, forgetting they would not be bachelors temporarily but permanently. And men permanently unmarried are not having the time of their lives—not by any means.

They lack the sanguine outlook and easy adjustability of women who are unmarried.

Dr. Knupfer's study makes it semi-official: Waste no pity on unmarried women. They neither want nor deserve pity.

Pick out a benighted bachelor and lavish sympathy on him. He will soak it up like a friendless pup, which is essentially what he is.

Inflation Curbs

By Sterling Green

WASHINGTON

If the administration's wage - price guidelines are on the skids, as many contend, what's to replace them as a better device for curbing inflation?

One idea is understood to be getting serious study by President Johnson's Labor - Management Advisory Committee.

A rough outline of the proposal is the government should give up trying to review individual wage boosts and price increases, and quit trying to apply rollback pressures against those which it believes "violate the guideposts" or are "against the public interest."

Instead, it should identify a few major sectors of the economy which are, or are likely to become, serious bottlenecks because or scarcity of materials or capacity.

IN EACH SUCH sector it should develop in detail policies "to mitigate inflationary pressures by increasing supplies and constricting demands" with the "close collaboration of labor, managements and operating government agencies at the state and federal levels."

The quotations and the proposal itself were made by John T. Dunlop, Harvard University economist, who has first-class credentials as a labor relations expert, mediator, and former wage stabilization official.

Labor sources suggest there is reason to believe Dunlop's ideas were talked over in advance with administration policymakers. His paper, delivered April 27 in a conference at the University of Chicago, contains one scrap of evidence to that effect.

The changeover in stabilization policy, said Dunlop, "should be developed through a reconstituted presidents committee on labor-management policy."

He spoke shortly before Johnson did revive the committee and asked it for advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

THE COMMITTEE will meet again June 3. A six-man task force — two each from labor, management and the public — will bring in its recommendations, if any, for study by the full 21-member body.

Dunlop contends the guidelines, which have been repudiated by labor and attacked in other quarters, had some usefulness in a slack economy but won't work in the pressures of a full employment economy.

Any alternative policy chosen, he continues, must have the respect and allegiance of both labor and management if it is to function. Both sides, therefore, must have a role in formulating the policy.

So far, that's the route Johnson has tried to follow.

In fact, the whole proposal is akin to the informal, emergency bottleneck breaking machinery he has set up under the coordination of special presidential assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr.

It works by such devices as unlocking stockpiled materials, curbing exports and encouraging imports.

50-50 Bet

By Richard Spong

A tax increase this year remains a 50-50 bet even though big business overwhelmingly opposes a rise. Most business leaders fear that profit margins will go down after July 1.

But, as reported recently by the New York Times, most business leaders still like Lyndon B. Johnson. They said as much at the meeting on the mid-May weekend of the Business Council at Hot Springs, Va.

The irony here is that big business is paying little heed to the President's urging to practice restraint in spending. A recent survey by Steel magazine is pretty revealing.

The journal reported on May 16 that 84 per cent of the respondents to a survey of 5,000 plant managers indicated that spending for new plant and equipment by their firms in the second half of this year will equal or exceed that of the like period of 1965. Moreover, 78 per cent of the managers said that spending in 1967 will equal or exceed that of 1966.

THE ADMINISTRATION view is that spending for new plant and production capacity is a major factor in overheating the economy. President Johnson repeatedly has asked for restraint in this kind of outlay.

The business answer to the President is fairly obvious. One respondent to the Steel survey commented: "The appeal leaves me cold since he doesn't practice what he preaches. Why listen to a spendthrift administration's advice about spending?"

President Johnson last January estimated spending by the federal government at $106.4 billion for the budgetary year 1966, up from the $96.5 billion of budget year 1965. It appears now that the actual 1966 figure will be between $107 billion and $108 billion. Yet the boom in business has hiked federal revenues way up, and Johnson apparently will emerge from 1966 possible only a few months ago.

INSTEAD OF THE $6.4 BILLION deficit foreseen in January, the prospect now is for a $3 billion to $4 billion deficit. This would be just about equal to the $3.4 billion deficit of 1965. A smaller than expected deficit would be the administration's ideal answer to the threat of an unwanted tax rise.

Joseph L. Block, chairman of the Inland Steel Corp., on May 16 said that the federal government's application of wage - price guideposts to individual industries was "incompatible with our free enterprise system." Block said that government should attack inflation "through the exercise of proper monetary and fiscal policies."

Most economic indicators still point upward. Some do not. Steel demand seems to be flattening out at a high level. The business letter impact, circulated by banks and other financial institutions, reports that some companies which have curtailed their expansion plans have indicated that the high cost of building and borrowing influenced their decision.

New Anti-Klan Law In Offing

By Victor Riesel

This is spring, and in the night the hooded cross burners ride again in fast cars, communicate with walkie - talkies, desecrate their children by thrusting them into Ku Klux Klan meadowland gatherings.

Victor Riesel

In the cities there are factory cell units; small shop organizers; district membership stewards and muscled men terrorizing small businessmen.

Despite the intense hearings before the House Committee on Un - American Activities, despite the testimony of 192 witnesses, despite 36 full days of cross-examination which filled 4,300 pages, the Klan has lost no members, nor its nerve, nor its plans for action.

It still has the capacity to strike with dynamite or oiled rags.

Of all this the FBI has ample evidence, for it still has considerable manpower infiltrating the scores of KKK overt and "cover" units.

The Klan's potential for damage still is powerful, according to federal and private agencies. Only tough, loopholeless laws can halt it.

SOON AN ATTEMPT to write such federal statutes will be made. This should occur within a month when Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-Calif., recovers from an illness and calls the group into legislative hearing sessions.

Perhaps some time will have to elapse until the committee's chief investigator, Don Appel, recovers from a heart attack into which he worked himself during the constant year-long probe and public hearings.

Sometime in June the hearings will start a search for the law which can pull the hoods from the night riders, literally and figuratively.

Most probable proposal will be an act which will hit at the KKK's assault on individual civil liberties. This statute will be at least three-pronged, it is suggested.

First: The bill would have to hit at the KKK oath.

A STATUTE WILL HAVE to be written which will deny any group the right to take an oath pledging any man or woman to refrain from informing the duly constituted authorities of knowledge of a committed crime.

Such an oath would make the pledgees participants, or accomplices, or co-conspirators in any illegal act. Thus, if such a bill is passed, the KKK oath would be wiped out.

Second: Efforts will be made to restrict the use of special radio wave lengths.

This is a refence to the citizen band radios which many Kluxers have installed in their cars and offices. Thus, the KKK men can tune in on police wave lengths and know where the cops are — and how they can be avoided.

Part of this statute will deal with control and use of walkie - talkies, handy gadgets to have for hit-and-run, cross-burning or dynamiting conspiracies.

Third: There will be a registration section.

This would hit at the KKK front societies, the chowder lunch club, the hunting and fishing "covers" for Klaverns.

ALL KLAN UNITS would have to register their members, property, financial records and other vital facts, especially if the Klaverns, etc., operate under official charters.

This bill is in the writing. At the moment there is only one completed proposal before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

It was written and presented for committee discussion by Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga. His proposed act hits at three subversive forces: the Communists, the KKK and the Mafia.

The Weltner proposal would hit at any organization designed to overthrow or seize the government; any organization "which employs intimidation or violence for purpose of depriving citizens of constitutional rights"; or any organization "whose purpose is to plan continued and consistent execution of acts which violate the criminal statutes of the United States."

MR. WELTNER would replace the current Subversive Activities Control Board with a Criminal Conspiracies Control Board. This could cite organizations which commit crimes on the political, social and economic fronts. They could be enjoined from further existence and punished if they reject the action of a civil court.

Whichever bill it will be, this is the season for it.

On April 30 the KKK ran a night rally in Greensboro, N.C. Some 500 people (with children) turned out. There have been other such demonstrations.

Terror still stalks the night.

Oregon Primary

By David Lawrence

Viet Stand Seen Unresolved

The best way to size up what happened in the Oregon primary — in which Rep. Robert Duncan won over Howard Morgan in the contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator — is to imagine the comments that would have been made if it had turned out the other way.

David Lawrence

For Mr. Morgan, in his outspoken criticism of the Viet Nam War, reflected the views of Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and others who have questioned the wisdom of President Johnson's policy. A Morgan victory would have been construed as meaning the administration had been repudiated.

Actually, there were many other factors in the campaign, as there usually are in primary elections, and it is to be noted that the Republican primary, won by Gov. Mark Hatfield, had also raised the Viet Nam issue, though by no means as positively or as unequivocally as was the case in the Democratic primary.

Mr. Morgan had the ardent backing of Sen. Morse but the latter points out that, if the votes cast in the Republican primary against the Viet Nam War are added to the Morgan vote, the total would indicate that the Republican nominee, Gov. Hatfield, will win the election in November.

THE FACT REMAINS, however, that the Democrats in their primary turned down a prospective candidate who was openly against the administration. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said of the Oregon primary:

"It shows that the people of the country intend to continue their support of President Johnson and want a vigorous prosecution of the Vietnamese War."

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., who is chairman of the House Republican Campaign Committee, made the point in his comments that, while the Viet Nam War undoubtedly influenced many votes, it was by no means the only issue. He observed that Mr. Duncan was the better of the two candidates.

As far as the Republican contest was concerned, Mr. Wilson said he doesn't think that Gov. Hatfield was as "extreme" in his criticism about Viet Nam as Mr. Morgan or Sen. Morse have been.

Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, D-Wisc., expressed the opinion that Rep. Duncan may not have gotten votes because of his position on Viet Nam, but in spite of it, because he was the more attractive candidate.

THE MOST SIGNIFICANT comment came from Mr. Morgan himself. He said:

"I was conducting a campaign under almost impossible conditions — opposing a president of my own party on a war issue when the country was in the midst of hostilities. If anyone had run against the policies of Roosevelt during World War II, he wouldn't have received 3 per cent of the vote."

It would have been a different story if Rep. Duncan, the exponent of the administration's Viet Nam policy, had been defeated and Mr. Morgan had been nominated. It will be difficult now for even the foreign press to justify any inference that the American people are opposed to the administration's policy in Viet Nam.

All this does not mean, however, that Viet Nam will not be a critical issue for any Democrats in the November election. It always happens that congressmen who are members of the party in power are either helped or hurt by the standing of the administration at the time of the election.

If the war in Viet Nam goes from bad to worse and the voters begin to feel that there ought to be a change in policy, there will be lots of votes cast against the party in power—not only by those who think America should withdraw from Viet Nam but by many others who feel the war ought to be prosecuted much more vigorously than it has been.

THUS, THE VIET NAM issue will play a part, but the outcome of the November election will depend also on issues on the domestic side, such as the effects of inflation on the cost of living. It's much too early to tell how the congressional elections five months hence are going to turn out just on the basis of what happened in the Oregon primary or in any other primaries throughout the country. In most instances, the ability and prestige of the individuals counted for far more than did issues of public policy.

Hawk Harasses Hospital Staffers As Mate Watches

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP — A pugnacious hawk who seems to be showing off for his mate is the ruler of the grounds and the roost — a television antenna — around St. Joseph's Infirmary.

Because of the hawk's aerial antics a window washer won't work, priests won't sit in the sun, construction workers post lookouts and dogs slink about with their tails between their legs.

The hawk, with a wingspan of about 1½ feet, first came out of the sky a few days ago and since has harassed workmen outside the building, anyone who appears on the roof, and strollers.

Meantime, hospital officials say, his mate sits serenely in a tree watching the goings on.

The window washer has refused to work until the hawk is out of the area. Priests refuse to use a small sun porch on the roof of the hospital's clergy quarters. Crews repairing the hospital's walls outside keep a steady watch.

Edward N. Cline, a guard at the hospital parking lot, said he saw a big dog run howling down an alley with "the hawk nipping at him every step."

Kentucky law prohibits killing the hawk, since hawks play an important role in controlling rodent and insect populations.

The eland is the largest member of the antelope family.

Boy Nabbed For $3 Theft

A 13-year-old Lisbon St. youth has admitted the entry of an East Liverpool home early Thursday afternoon in which about $3 was stolen, police reported.

The boy was cited by Patrolman Orin C. Smith following an investigation into the theft at the home of Mrs. Joan Weber of 914 Alton St. between 12:30 and 1 yesterday.

Mrs. Weber told police the thief obtained the money from a dish in the diningroom. It included a $1 bill, four 25-cent pieces and other assorted change, she said.

Police learned that the 13-year-old had been seen in the vicinity of the home at 12:45 p.m., about 15 minutes before the theft was discovered.

Patrolman Smith said he was en route from Mrs. Weber's home to the suspect's home about 4:08 p.m. when the youth spotted the police car and fled on foot.

The officer continued to the suspect's home and talked with his father. The father promised to take the boy to police headquarters as soon as he was found.

The boy was taken to headquarters about 7:30 last night by his father. Under questioning, he admitted the theft, police said.

He was placed under an 8 p.m. curfew pending his appearance Saturday before Juvenile Officer James Miller.

Soldiers' Wives Help Train GI's At Fort's 'Viet Village'

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) For the soldiers and their wives in the jungle villages, it was deadly serious — these war games providing Viet Nam-type training for the paratroopers at Ft. Campbell.

But the kids were having a picnic.

The women and children, dependents of servicemen in Viet Nam or facing the prospect of going there, added a touch of realism by living during the five-day maneuvers in six villages scattered through the jungle like terrain of the sprawling military reservation.

The maneuvers end at sundown today.

This is the home of the famous 101st Airborne Division. The division and the fort both formerly were under the command of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, now American military commander in Viet Nam.

"The villages are important in the Vietnamese fighting," an Army spokesman said, "because they serve as intelligence cneetrs both for the Viet Cong and the villagers who are friendly to the Americans."

Two of the six villages, straw hut affairs inhabited by straw-hatted women, are nerve centers for "Thrush," which is the vaguely disguised name for the Viet Cong. The other four are pro-American.

But all of them — in a style familiar to the American fighting men in the area — made dmeands on arriving American soldiers, ranging from trinkets of gold to digging a well at gunpoint. A black market flourished in each village.

The youngsters all stayed with their mothers during the operations, as the 250 wives cooked such things as fresh killed chickens over open fires.

Coroner Clears Man In Slaying Of Gunman

PITTSBURGH (AP) — William R. Hunt, the Allegheny County coroner, has exonerated of any criminal blame a Pittsburgh tavern owner who police said shot to death one man and wounded another.

Arnold Roth, 51, of Pittsburgh's Squirrel Hill district was cleared Thursday in the slaying of Harry Holden, 36, and wounding of Daniel Kerston, 32, both of the East End.

Testimony at a hearing before Hunt showed the pair forced their way into Roth's home at gunpoint last Jan. 11.

Help Others, Nations Told

GRANADA, Spain (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler today urged other Free World nations to bear a greater share of the burden in aiding underdeveloped countries.

"The progress of development aid should not depend solely upon the United States for stimulation and leadership," Fowler said in a speech prepared for the close of the 13th annual Monetary Conference.

He also called 1966 a year of decision for reducing world trade barriers and for agreements by the 10 leading industrial nations — the so-called "group of 10" — on essential points for international monetary reform.

Fowler mentioned no specific countries which he felt should increase their aid programs, but he said the "appropriate sharing" of international aid should be high on the agendas for this fall's meetings of the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, and the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

Viet

ments finally put the mob to flight.

About 12,000 persons reportedly demonstrated for 2½ hours in Quang Tri, capital of South Viet Nam's northernmost province. The protest was directed against the United States as well as the government. No monks were seen in the throng.

The exodus of foreign civilians from Hue coincided with a declaration by Lt. Col. Phan Van Khoa, Hue's mayor and chief of Thua Thien Province, that he had lost whatever control he held over the dissident northern city 400 miles northeast of Saigon. Buddhists and students demonstrated outside his headquarters this afternoon. He is regarded as pro-American.

On his arrival in Da Nang in a U.S. Air Force jet, Ky denounced the burning of the U.S. Information Service library in Hue Thursday as the work of "minority fanatics" and pledged to protect Vietnamese and Americans in the Buddhist bastion 40 miles northwest of Da Nang.

Ky did not say what he would do. But Thursday, after a mob of youths burned out the U.S.I.S. building, he sent 500 troops into Hue to protect American installations, including a Voice of America station that beams broadcasts to North Viet Nam.

The soldiers as yet did not seem ready for any open clashes with the Buddhists. They were part of the 1st Division.

On the war front, American air cavalrymen wiped out a battalion-size force of Viet Cong in 11 days of fighting in the central highlands, the U.S. command announced today.

Units of the 1st Air Cavalry Division killed 311 Viet Cong and captured 29 during Operation Crazy Horse 260 miles northeast of Saigon, a military spokesman said.

He disclosed, meanwhile, several battalions of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division were engaged in a sweep near the outskirts of Saigon with a code name of Operation Lexington since May 17. So far, 29 Viet Cong have been killed, 10 captured and large caches of food and ammunition seized, he said.

Over-all, however, the spokesman gave much of the same picture of ground fighting in the past week: allied forces were combing the jungles and rice paddies in search and destroy operations but encountering only light and scattered contact with the elusive Viet Cong.

Vietnamese Army headquarters reported three brisk fights with the Viet Cong 48 miles south of Saigon. The Vietnamese reported they killed 74 Viet Cong, captured 50 and seized 21 weapons in an operation Thursday.

2 Cars Involved In District Crash

Cars operated by Barbara Jean Webber, 20, of Lisbon R. D. 3 and Paul Eugene Reed, 39, of 229 Louisiana Ave., Chester, were involved in a collision Thursday at 11:55 a. m. on Route 170, nine miles north of Route 30, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said the woman was headed north on Route 170 when Reed pulled from a private drive and also headed north. His car was struck in the rear. The woman told officers the brakes on her compact locked.

The patrol today estimated damage at $250 to a 1959 model station wagon operated by Alvin E. Ketchum, 37, of Salineville R. D. 1 which was struck by a train at Rose Run Crossing on Washington Township Rd. 740, west of Salineville, Thursday morning at 8:55.

Ketchum was southbound when his car stalled on the crossing. He and a passenger abandoned the vehicle before it was rammed by a Pennsylvania Railroad freight.

The patrol said the engineer was Jack J. Wenzel of Cleveland.

Humphrey, 55, Marks Event As 'Happy Man'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey celebrated his 55th birthday today and said "I'm a very happy man.

"Good health, a lovely wife, a fine family, good friends . . . and the opportunity of public service. What more could anyone want?" he added.

Humphrey and his wife planned to fly to their Waverly, Minn., home tonight with Agriculture Secretary and Mrs. Orville L. Freeman as their houseguests.

Mrs. Humphrey has invited 35 friends there to an informal backyard birthday buffet Saturday. The main course will be fried chicken; Humphrey's favorite food

By Midland Council

Probe Launched In False Alarms

An investigation has been launched by Midland Council and the Rochester office of the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Co. in an effort to determine whether faulty operations of the company's facilities at the new Midland central office may be responsible for several false alarms which have plagued firemen the last few weeks.

At the suggestion of Joseph Hibbard, chairman of the fire and police committee, Council authorized a letter to be sent to the utility requesting reimbursement for the money expended in answering the calls.

Hibbard reported four false alarms had been answered since the telephone company transferred operations to its new quarters on Sunrise Hill.

IN OTHER action, the legislators suspended the youth work for the summer, accepted bids on repairs for seven streets and passed an ordinance providing cable television.

Mayor Eli G. Corak reported that a work survey conducted by the maintenance departments of the borough and school district failed to find enough projects to justify the youth corps.

"The survey revealed there is work to provide employment for only 16 youths over a four-week period. Since there are usually about 100 applicants for summer work, it is felt best to suspend the program this year, rather than slight the 84-or-so youths who will not be hired," he said.

"The work that is available can be handled by borough and school employes over a larger period of time. By allowing them to do the work, we also will save the taxpayers' money," Corak explained.

FIVE BIDS were accepted for study on the repair of portions of seven streets in the community. The streets are Beaver Ave., Virginia Ave., Elm St., Hillcrest (upper level), Midland Heights Circle, Woodlane Ave. and Railroad Ave.

The bids included Acme Paving Co. of Conway, $22,657; Beaver Valley Paving Co. of Beaver, $19,714; George Studin Co. of Midland, $23,157; Pittsburgh Asphalt Products of Conway, $18,523, and Interstate Amiesite Co. of Monaca, $18,806.

Council turned the bids over to Michael Baker Jr. Inc., borough engineer, and Joseph Suffoletta, solicitor, for study.

Raymond Presutti, vice president who presided in the absence of William Vinovich Sr., president, reported, "This will provide faster action on deciding the contract award, thus enabling work to get started on the streets as soon as possible."

An ordinance providing a franchise to Centre Video, a cable television company from State College, Pa., for servicing the borough for 20 years was passed on all three readings.

The ordinance permits Centre Video "to construct, maintain and operate facilities for the transmission and distribution of television signals."

ROBERT TUDEK, vice president and general manager of the company, said the facility will be constructed as soon as permission is obtained to use Bell Telpehone and Duquesne Light Co. utility poles.

He said the cost of the first outlet for the services in private homes would be $4.40 and in commercial buildings $5.50. The second outlet will cost $1, the third 75 cents and additional outlets 50 cents.

The borough building, fire halls and all schools will have outlets installed free of charge, according to Tudek.

Presuitti said the cost of the initial outlet was lowered to the listed prices because council elected to return a 10 - cent franchise award to the customers who sign for the srevices.

The company offered to pay 10 cents to the borough for every service franchise it received, but Council decided to return the money to the customer instead, Presuitti explained.

—:—

JOHN PHILLIPS, a resident of 1050 Ohio Ave., asked council and Tudek to explain the type of facility that would be provided. He wanted to know if it would be a master antenna television system or a community antenna television system, and the difference between the two facilities.

Tudek informed Phillips that the two systems were similar and could equal each other in signal transmission.

"The main difference is that MATV towers are built on extremely high buildings, such as large hotels and office buildings, and sometimes just serve that particular structure. On the other hand, CATV is constructed on a high hill and serves an entire community. Both facilities may be built to provide an equal amount of service," he concluded.

Peter Vuckovich, chairman of the building committee, said work will start on the borough building roof repairs within the next two weeks.

The cost will be $686, with Richard Sherin Roofing Co. of Beaver awarded the bid, he reported.

Acting on the recommendation of Corak, Council approved the sending of letters to the Secretary of Army and the General Service Administrator of the federal government informing them that the land of the old Midland Dam site across the river from Crucible Steel Co. has been submitted to the Beaver County Commission.

THE LAND originally was given to the borough by the government in 1963 after the locks were eliminated by construction of the dam at Stratton. At that time, the government stipulated that the land must be used for recreational facilities.

After studies showed the construction of this type facility was out of the reach of the borough budget, the Midland officials decided to turn the land over to the county.

Now, according to Corak, who is also a county commissioner, the county has received clearance to use the property for recreational or industrial sites.

Presuitti also reported officials of Crucible Steel have promised to investigate the possibility of helping to alleviate the traffic problems in the borough. They met with the traffic committee Monday.

Council approved its annual contribution of $500 to the 4th of July Celebration Executive Committee.

During the great potato famine in Ireland that began in 1844 and lasted 5 years, 1,500,000 Irish died of starvation or malnutrition.

During Business Session

Harold J. Mills Retained By Area Highway Group

Harold J. Mills, executive manager of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, was retained as president of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association during the annual business meeting Thursday night at the Trumbull Country Club in Warren.

All other officers also were retained and three members of the Board of Directors in expiring terms were named again.

The association also retained A. P. Morris of Salem, vice president, and Walter G. Scott of Youngstown, treasurer, and named E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the East Liverpool Chamber, as secretary to replace A. C. Patterson of Ashtabula.

Chandler also was given a new term as one of Columbiana County's three representatives on the board.

The association re - elected Scott, representing Mahoning County, and William Regner of Ashtabula, an Ashtabula County representative, and named Robert L. Morton of Warren as a Trumbull County representative to replace Ralph Taylor, also of Warren.

Francis H. Lang, an East Liverpool attorney and charter president of the four - county association, is among four hold-over members of the board whose terms run through 1967.

The others are: Mills, J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown and Patterson. Morris' term on the board runs through 1968, along with those of three others. They are Adam Andrews of Girard, Arthur Cooksey of Youngstown and Frank Koski of Ashtabula.

The association is comprised principally of representatives of service and civic organizations in Columbiana, Mahoning, Ashtabula and Trumbull counties.

It was organized seven years ago to help promote construction of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway, also known as State Route 11, which eventually will link Ohio River ports at East Liverpool with the Lake Erie docks at Ashtabula.

Several stretches of the 90-mile highway already have been completed, mostly in the East Liverpool and Ashtabula areas. Others are under construction, including a link between Route 170 at Substation and Route 267 at Apples Corners, and more are in the planning stage.

Lang, Chandler and Morris represented Columbiana County at the dinner meeting last night.

The nominating committee was comprised of Lang, Mossman and Morris. Julius White, a reporter at the Warren Tribune - Chronicle, was appointed the association's public relations representative.

The association made tentative plans for a meeting in the Salem area in late June or early July. The directors of the State Highway Department's Division 11 and Division 4 will be invited to attend to discuss the progress on the construction of the highway.

Plans also were discussed for a general meeting in the fall.

100 Attend Dinner

Firemen Mark 10 Years In Liverpool Township

Some 100 attended the 10th anniversary dinner of the Liverpool Township Fire Department Thursday night at the Dixonville station.

Jack Conley was master of ceremonies for the event at which Richard Sanford and Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville were among the speakers.

Sanford, president of the Liverpool Township trustees, reviewed the history of the township and the department. Lewis, who has been instructor for the department fire schools, discussed fire department improvements.

The Rev. Edwin McDonald of the LaCroft Nazarene Church gave prayer.

Fire Chief Robert Badger spoke and distributed membership pins.

THE AUXILIARY presented each of the 10-year men with billfolds and money clips. There are seven 10-year men in the West section and six in the East section.

Women attending were given orchids prior to the baked steak and chicken dinner.

The department was formed in 1956 after the need for a firemen's organization was brought before the township trustees.

Among the organizers were Edwin Emmerling of LaCroft and Harry Smith of Dixonville. Dr. F. D. Irwin, township trustees Guy Digman, Louis Sanford and Clarence Garren and clerk Simon Hall.

Because of the geographical nature of the township, with two separate centers of residential areas, it was decided to form two departments — one in the eastern section at Dixonville and the other in the western section at LaCroft.

A bond issue for constructing fire stations was approved by voters and the laying of blocks was contracted by the trustees. The remainder of the work was done by volunteer aid.

—:—

FIREMEN were trained in a fire school conducted by Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville, and the first session ended in November 1956. Four subsequent schools have been held, and members have taken part in training classes throughout Columbiana County.

Emmerling was named the first fire chief and held the post until 1961, when he resigned for health reasons.

Homer Cronin is assistant chief for the LaCroft department and Robert Parker is assistant chief for the Dixonville department.

There are currently 45 membres of the two departments. Equipment includes two pumpers, a tanker and squad car at the Dixonville station and a pumper, tanker and squad car at LaCroft.

Humphrey Says Congress Shows Viet War 'Sense'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today Congress is showing its "sense of responsibility" by easing up on the Viet Nam debate.

Congressmen realize the difficulty of the political situation in Viet Nam, the vice president said in an interview, and that is one reason discussions of the turmoil and confusion there have been relatively calm in contrast to the fury that broke out in the Senate over the issues of escalation and bombing.

This is because the political issues are much more troublesome to debate than the military, Humphrey said.

Humphrey noted, "I would imagine everything that can be said has been said on both sides."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, the senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee which was the focus of the war debate, has another interpretation for the relative calm:

"It may be the people who were making the most noise have run out of steam."

"I'm just speculating," he added in an interview, "but it's certainly possible a lot of people who have been so loud in their criticism may be wondering whether they have given stimulis to some of these uprisings in Viet Nam."

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, a persistent critics of administration policy, observed he hasn't changed his opinions despite a lull in his public attacks.

But, he said, "those who are defending our course may find there is little to say. The mess down there certainly has kept the hawks from saying anything; the doves can feel the facts speak for themselves. It now is so obvious a mess."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., one of the sparkplugs for the Foreign Relations Committee's hearings on Viet Nam, said he feels members are aware of the "precarious balance of the Viet Nam situation" and didn't want to add to the upset by more discussion.

A report was published as far back as 1880 that pointed out a link between smoking and cancer was suspected.

Ohio's traffic death toll began to mount rapidly even before the crush of motorists expected on the state's highways for the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

The latest victims:

Timothy Scott Dennewitz, 17, Rt. 3, Chillicothe.

Smith was killed as a result of a Thursday night accident. His sports car hit a curb and flipped over in Akron and Smith died within minutes after he was taken to a hospital.

23 Republicans Seek Study Of Draft System

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-three Republican congressmen called today for a thorough investigation of the Selective Service system.

The group, headed by Rep. Robert F. Ellsworth of Kansas, said it would submit five more statements on the draft in the next two weeks.

U.S. Pays $232 For Tuxedos At California Prom

DOS PALOS, Calif. (AP) — The federal government is paying $232 to rent tuxedos and buy dinners for 16 students going to Dos Palos High School's junior-senior prom Saturday night.

Neil Nordstrom, high school principal, said Thursday, "These 16 boys are from needy, deprived families. This will be part of their training in etiquette, manners and cultural improvement."

"This money comes under the Elementary Secondary Education Act," the principal said. "Somehow false reports have gotten out that the money was antipoverty funds. This is just not so."

"The money was obtained under Educational Funds, Title 1. Our board approved the application; we wrote to the State Department of Education in Sacramento; approval was given," he said.

"This $232 is just a fragment of $43,000 which has been allocated to our school for such needs as laboratory equipment, art supplies, maps, books, equipment for physical education and the like."

Dos Palos is in the California Central Valley. There will be some 300 at the prom.

Klan Chief Complains About Being Followed

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — J. Robert Jones, North Carolina's Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America, has the feeling someone's interested in his whereabouts most all the time.

During a news conference Thursday, Jones talked of the state's watchdog committee set up to watch the Klan.

"They follow me like little poodle dogs," Jones said. "I look up every once in a while and see them tagging along. I don't know whether they're following me or not, but they sure are going in my direction a lot of times."

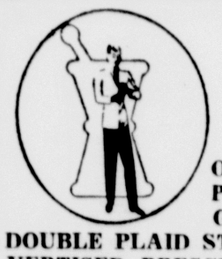

Auto, Truck Damaged In E. 3rd St. Collision

An auto and a pickup truck were damaged in a collision this morning at 8:56 on E. 3rd St. at Washington St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1962 model truck owned by Bloor's Pharmacy and operated by Eugene C. Hughes, 24, of 133 E. 3rd St. and a 1955 sedan driven by Joseph Morvad, 25, of Aliquippa, officers said.

The collision scratched the right rear fender of the truck and damaged the left rear door of the Aliquippa man's car, police said. Hughes reported he was backing to pull away from the curb and struck the auto. Morvad reported he was slowing to make a left turn when the truck bumped his auto.

A PLEDGE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day in my opinion is one of the most significant and beautiful occasions of the year. It shows the sentiment of the people toward those who gave their lives for a patriotism which is without a parallel. Memorial Day cannot be too tenderly revered by old and young, by those who participated in one of the nation's great struggles. Our country each year pays greater tribute and respect to the soldier living and dead and we hope it continues in a more expanded form.

Turncoat Made Radio Broadcast Voluntarily

HONG KONG (AP) — Korean War turncoat Clarence Adams said today he acted without prodding from the Red Chinese when he taped two broadcasts for Hanoi telling American Negro soldiers in Viet Nam they should be fighting for equality back home.

"I volunteered the tapes completely on my own," the 37-year-old Memphis Negro told a news conference. "I had no advice. I had no help. I went to the (Viet Nam) Liberation Front office in Peking on my own and made the tapes there."

Adams crossed into Hong Kong Thursday, 13 years after refusing repatriation to the United States.

He said he recorded the broadcasts for Hanoi Radio because "to my understanding the United States is involved in a war there which is not in the interests of the country.

"Negroes are fighting (in Viet Nam) for the freedom of other peoples when they themselves are not free—not totally free. They don't enjoy equality.

"Actually they should be back in the United States joining forces with the people there who feel the Negro is equal and who are fighting to give the Negro freedom and equality."

Adams told a questioner he did not feel his broadcasts put him in the same category as "Tokyo Rose." The American-born Japanese who broadcast for Japan in World War II.

Asked why not, he replied: "Because in Viet Nam Congress has not declared war."

"I do not see where any legal action can be taken against me," he said also.

Adams added he did not expect to participate in the anti-Viet Nam war movement in the United States.

"I am not interested in anything like that now," he said. "I am only interested in seeing my family again and finding work to make a living for myself and my children."

None Injured In 2 Mishaps

No one was injured in two traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Thursday, police reported.

A crash at 1:16 p.m. on E. 3rd St. 20 feet east of Apple Alley involved a 1960 model sports car driven by Robert W. Krul, 17, of Kent City, Mich., and a 1962 two-door sedan operated by George P. Williams, 62, of Shadyside Ave., officers said.

Krul, operating an auto owned by Robert Rogers of E. 4th St., told Patrolman Paul Burson Jr. he was halted with his turn signal operating while he waited for an auto to pull out of a service station. He said Williams pulled around him on the left and attempted to turn into the station, with the right side of the Williams car striking the front of the halted auto.

Williams said Krul was parked, but pulled out and struck the Williams car as the Shadyside man was turning into the station.

The mishap damaged the right door and side of Williams' car, but the other auto was undamaged, police said.

The glare of the sun on a windshield was blamed for another mishap on Bradshaw Ave. 70 feet west of Avondale St., officers reported.

The collision involved a 1956 four - door sedan driven by Olive E. Burson, 54, of Dixonville and a 1960 model station wagon operated by Donald L. Hissom, 56, of 328 2nd St., Chester, officers said.

The Burson car was moving west on Bradshaw Ave. about 10 miles an hour when Hissom pulled from a private driveway and struck it on the left front fender, officers said. Hissom said he did not see the Burson car because of the glare of the sun on his windshield. His car was undamaged.

Bus Strike Fails To Daunt Senior Citizen Tourists

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When 37 Michigan senior citizens were stranded in San Francisco by Western Lines Greyhound strike complications, they responded by square dancing in their hotel's lobby.

"We've had a tornado in Illinois, sleet in the Rockies, a hotel fire in Los Angeles and now this," said tour director Betty Keller.

All members of the Pleasant Hours Club of Dearborn were on a 30-day chartered western tour when Amalgamated Transit Union pickets stopped their bus Thursday in San Francisco.

The bus was operated by the unstruck Eastern Greyhound Lines. San Francisco Transit Union local spokesmen said. "Any Greyhound bus that comes into our territory is going to be picketed." Some union members threatened to lay down in front of the bus.

The group planned to leave for Salt Lake City today — by train.

Judge Jones To Join 4-State Conference

Judge George M. Jones of the 7th District Court of Appeals has been made a life member of the federal 6th Circuit Judicial Conference which will convene in June at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, Mich.

The conference is an annual meeting of all federal judges and their delegates from the states of Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

After a delegate has been invited by a federal judge three times to the conference, he then is named a life member. The conference meets for the purpose of discussing common problems concerning the federal bench and bar.

Cuban Exiles Jam Boat For Florida Trip

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-nine Cubans were jammed into a 24-foot boat, but most said they enjoyed their voyage to exile.

"The trip was wonderful, but hiding in swamps and jungles for three days while waiting for the boat was not pleasant," said Rodolfo Penaranda, 84-year-old seaman, registering Thursday at the Cuban refugee center. "The mosquitoes were big and hungry."

Penaranda's daughter, grandson and great-grandson accompanied him.

The migrants brought to 122 the total arriving by boat this month, the largest number in any month during a year's period.

Meanwhile, the organized exile airlift continued. The U.S. government-chartered airlift plane returned Thursday without landing in Cuba because of mechanical trouble.

Also, the Cuban exile news service, AIP, said a man who argued with Fidel Castro while the two were cutting sugar cane was shot and killed by a Castro boydguard.

AIP said the victim was Mario Herrera, one of Castro's underground leaders in the revolution that swept him into power. It said underground sources reported the incident occurred when government officials joined in a cane cutting blitz.

Release Motion Denied By Judge

LISBON — Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp, at a habeas corpus hearing Thursday, denied a motion of Albert Lee Tiano, 41, of Beckley, W. Va., for release from Columbiana County Jail.

Sheriff's deputies and East Palestine police arrested Tiano near Darlington, Pa., April 25, as a suspect in the burglary of an unoccupied Columbiana area home owned by Lowell Burke of 778 Woodland Ave., East Liverpool. Tiano was taken before a Pennsylvania magistrate and waived extradition to Columbiana County.

On May 9, he withdrew a motion for a preliminary hearing in Eastern Area Court at East Palestine and Judge Hrebert Arfman bound him over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

Tiano sought release on a claim that the arrest and subsequent search of his person were illegal.

Judge Sharp ordered Tiano returned to jail to await action of the next grand jury unless he can make the $1,000 bond.

Fires Started In California Negro Area

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — "Molotov cocktails" set four fires Thursday night in Bakersfield's Negro district where racial trouble broke out earlier this week.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert Paddock said one fire bomb caused destruction of a residential garage with damage estimated at $3,500.

Paddock said three other fires were set but were confined to vacant lots and part of one building with minor damage reported.

Police Lt. Clyde O'Kane said no arrests were made. Paddock said several suspects were under investigation.

Last Sunday night, 125 law officers were called to quell a major disturbance. Small groups of youths began throwing bottles and rocks at police following an argument between Negroes and officers at the scene of a traffic accident.

In medicine, what is good for one person may not be good for another. Giving your medicine to someone whose symptoms seem similar to yours, could be harmful — even dangerous. Each sickness requires special treatment to fit the particular case — the particular person. It is unwise to save a left-over prescription for future use.

The safe course is to have your doctor prescribe fresh medicine — the exact prescription for the specific need. Then have it filled here for professional service, reasonably priced.

Patrol To War Again On Holiday Accidents

Stepped-up efforts will be made by the Ohio Highway Patrol over the Memorial Day weekend to cut down highway accidents.

Sgt. R. J. Rizzo of the Lisbon post said today officers at the post will be on duty around the clock and will concentrate their efforts in high accident frequency areas. He called for the cooperation of Columbiana County area motorists to help prevent accidents.

Traffic accidents in Ohio accounted for 32 deaths and 1,144 persons injured over the Memorial Day weekend in 1965.

—:—

AT COLUMBUS it was announced that State Highway Patrol Supt. Robert Chairamonte personally will head the biggest contingent of road patrol officers ever assembled in the state in an effort to reduce accidents.

The superintendent has declared that he and all other supervisory personnel will be in cars helping regular patrolmen during the 78-hour holiday period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Memorial Day Monday.

Chiaramonte will direct patrol operations involving a total of nearly 900 men. Supervisors' desk work will be taken over by patrol auxiliaries, he said.

They will be helped by State Highway Department personnel who have been directed by Highway Director P. E. Masheter to patrol Ohio's 950 - mile freeway system to help stranded motorists. This will permit the patrol to devote full time to enforcement.

Despite the stepped up efforts, officials of the Highway Safety Department are predicting 33 persons will lose their lives in Ohio traffic during the long, holiday period.

Chiaramonte noted that Ohio motorists averaged 10.4 fatalities per day during the 1965 Memorial Day weekend. He said this year's "full traffic supervision program" is designed to see that this doesn't happen again.

—:—

FOR THOSE who will be traveling over the long weekend, Sgt. Rizzo of the Lisbon barracks offers these traffic suggestions:

1.—Obey the speed limit signs. Remember, speed kills.

2.—Be alert at intersections and railroad crossings. Comply with the stop signs and traffic signals.

3.—Don't stay behind the wheel too long. Stop for a rest at least every two hours.

4.—Plan your trip so you won't have to hurry either to or from your destination.

5.—Make certain your car is in "top" shape.

6.—Don't ever pass over the yellow line and never when you can't see a reasonable distance ahead.

7.—Don't "cut in" too soon after passing. Wait until you can see the car you passed in your rear view mirror.

8.—Don't load your car so your view is obstructed in any direction.

9.—Don't drive after drinking any alcoholic drink. A little alcohol can seriously impair your judgment and driving ability.

10.—Be courteous to the other driver and on the lookout for his mistakes.

Highlandtown's Students Return Following Trip

Forty-seven members of the seventh and eighth grades of the Highlandtown Elementary School and their chaperones have returned from a tour of Washington, D.C.

Places visited included Mt. Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, John F. Kennedy's grave, the tomb of the Unknown Soldier; the Archives Documentary Building, the Smithsonian Institution, the Wax Museum, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the White House, the capitol building, National Airport, the Washington Monument and the Jefferson and Lincoln Memorial.

A "glimpse" of Mrs. Lyndon Johnson in the back yard at the White House was one of the thrills of the tour, according to the sponsors, Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry and Paul F. Barbuto, school principal.

The trip was made possible by proceeds from class projects.

Mt. Nebo Grange Holds Memorial

LISBON — Mt. Nebo Grange members conducted a memorial service Wednesday night, placing on the altar a carnation for each of the 10 members deceased since the last service in 1963.

Mrs. Viola Harrold, lecturer, gave two readings; Mrs. Myrtle McPherson read the 23rd Psalm, led the Lord's Prayer and gave closing prayer; Charles Morlan, Columbiana County Grange deputy, read a poem, and the 14 members sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Overseer Howard Wilhelm conducted the business meeting in the absence of Master Carl Bailey. The Grange donated to two appeals for aid and made plans for the annual strawberry festival June 18. Mrs. Howard Wilhelm is general chairman.

Mt. Nebo will have inspection at the next meeting June 8. Officers will practice at 9 p.m. June 4.

The Demeter meeting was announced for 7:30 p.m. June 6 at the Unity Grange. Mt. Nebo will be host to the county Grange youth banquet July 19.

Matinee Time Altered For Fair Of Boosters

A Saturday matinee at the Beaver Local Boosters Club spring fair will begin at 5 p.m., rather than 1, as originally scheduled, the sponsors said today.

The time was changed because many residents of the suburban area are busy with spring lawn, garden and farm work and would not be able to attend at the earlier time, the club said.

The fair opened Thursday night on the grounds of the Beaver Local Public School near Williamsport. Rides, concessions and a bake sale will be featured tonight. Crowning of a queen is set Saturday at 10 p.m. There are nine competitors. The event will close Saturday at 11 p.m.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Earthquakes are continuing at the rate of three a day in the Beni area of the Congo's North Kivu Province, Gov. Denis Paluku reported today.

Paluku also said it appeared that only 24 persons were killed in the original earthquake May 22 and not 90 as first announced.

The road to Beni having been destroyed, aid operations are difficult and many families lack housing or medical care, Paluku added.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Our New Overseas Image Via TV

When the late Edward R. Murrow was head of the U.S. Information Agency, he often worried over the impression people abroad received of America via our exported movies and TV shows. In more backward areas Murrow found the widespread belief that the eastern half of the United States was ruled by gangsters, while Indians and cowboys still were in a death struggle for control of the western half. Murrow even made a private speech out here before movie and TV producers suggesting they should feel a responsibility for broadening this narrow view of American civilization which they had done so much to promulgate.

Hal Humphrey

-:-

OBVIOUSLY the Murrow advice did not go unheeded by the TV industry, a fact demonstrated dramatically by a recent announcement from 20th Century-Fox announcing the sale of that studio's "Peyton Place" series to station KBS-TV in Seoul, Korea.

"The series will be shown twice weekly with Korean subtitles," the announcement added, proving that 20th Century-Fox is interested in reaching all Koreans.

Stimulated by this news, I checked further and discovered "Peyton Place" is being seen in 28 other countries, including Guatemala, Cuprus, Finland and the United Arab Republic.

This should go a long way in quashing the ridiculous notion among those peoples that ours is a land where gangsters and Indians have split up the east and west side of the country between them.

FINALLY those abroad (thanks to 20th Century - Fox) will see that America is made up of sin - infested small towns largely dependent on the intolerant whims of one man who owns a big factory.

Our teen-agers, they'll find, are oversexed neurotics who occasionally kill each other or marry the wrong mate or (like one girl) cut off their hair in protest.

The adults, of course, are not better off, caught up as they are in petty feuds, sexual incapacities and distrust of one another.

Unfortunately, we can't be sure how the good people of Seoul, Korea, will take this new insight into America. Many of them probably will consider it just more Communist propaganda from the North Koreans.

It's the kind of thing, after all, that the Commies have been saying about America for a long time. It may take some tall convincing from a battalion of 20th Century-Fox press agents before South Korean TV viewers will believe "Peyton Place" is in America.

-:-

NOW THEY shouldn't have any trouble in the United Arab Republic. The things which Abdul Nasser has told his people about us very likely tally quite closely with what they'll see on "Peyton Place" — unless he oversold them on the gangsters and Indians syndrome while we were exporting that culture cycle.

In Venezuela, Argentina, Japan and Thailand the transition from the gangster - Indian cycle to "Peyton Place" won't be so hard to swallow because the people in those countries are also watching "Batman," another TV export from 20th Century-Fox.

Even the most uneducated viewer in Thailand is going to figure out that "Batman" rid America of the scourge of the gangsters and Indians and that now we are able to live unhappily together in "Peyton Place."

THE STUDIO really should make "Peyton Place" and "Batman" a package deal and refuse to sell one without the other to eliminate confusion among old viewers still watching "Gunsmoke" and "The Untouchables," neither of which typifies the America we natives know and love today.

This step forward to improve our image abroad is not going to go unopposed, however. Westerns like "Shane," "Iron Horse" and "The Rounders" are on next season's schedule, as are crime shows ("Men Aganst Evil," "The Hawk"), and efforts will be made to sell them overseas, naturally.

All of which proves that it is a never-ending struggle to keep an honest image of ourselves abroad on TV, as Murrow and the USIA always have known.

Mariner Signals May Continue Through '68

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Signals from the Mariner 4 spacecraft that photographed Mars last July 14 indicate it may function until 1968.

Power for Mariner's small radio transmitter comes from a solar panel aimed at the sun.

Officials at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said signals received from Mariner 4 last Saturday by the laboratory's new 210-foot diameter antenna at Goldstone, Calif., were from about 197.5-million miles in space.

Smoking, Ads Barred In Rapid Transit Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bay area rapid transit district directors voted Thursday to prohibit smoking and advertising in cars of the vast new system they are building to serve the San Francisco Bay area.

Cleaning ashtrays, sweeping floors and replacing carpets would cost $100,000 more a year if smoking were permitted, they said.

ARTHRITIS

Q. Does arthritis run in families?

A. Yes, and this may be a basic clue which could eventually lead to a better understanding of this baffling disorder. A doctor recently discussed the case of a 38-year-old woman with severe arthritis. Four of her five children had the disease. The patient's father and maternal aunt were also victims of arthritis, as were several other relatives. This seems to indicate that there are important familial factors which predispose to arthritis. Undoubtedly there are other and as yet unknown factors which actually precipitate the disease.

AGE AND CANCER

Q. It is true that if you live long enough you will die of cancer?

A. One of the penalties of attaining old age is an increased chance of developing cancer. In general, cancer is a biologic phenomenon related to the decay and degeneration of tissue. On the other hand, cancer usually does not occur in extreme old age. In fact, after attainment of the completely senile state, cancer generally becomes progressively infrequent.

Presbyterian Leader Seeks To Apply Faith To Problems

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The new chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A has pledged to press for Christian unity and for vigorous application of the faith to the problems of modern society.

"We dare not permit our churches to be enclaves of refuge and safety from the world," says William Phelps Thompson, the first layman named to the top leadership of his denomination in this century.

A trim, 5-foot-11 man, with a ready wit and a level gaze, Thompson was elected stated clerk of the 3.3-million-member denomination Wednesday in its first change-over in administration in 15 years.

He is to succeed The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, one of the nation's leading Protestants, who resigned to become general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

Thompson, 47, a Wichita, Kan., lawyer, told a news conference he intended to pursue policies which, under Dr. Blake, brought the denomination into the front lines of social causes and efforts for Christian reunion.

"Whatever opportunities we have," he said, "will be used to further the unity of the church." Referring to current talks for a merger of eight Protestant bodies, with a total of 24 million members, he said:

'This probably is the most important thing happening to the church today in this country."

"We're all very thrilled," said Mrs. Thompson, a poised woman who was accompanied by the three Thompson children, Judity, 16, Bill, 14, and Margaret, 11.

Thompson was elected on the closing day of the church's eight-day governing assembly, winning over two clergymen, The Rev. Dr. Hugh Miller of Dover, N.J., and The Rev. Dr. John W. Heister of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Angelican Scores London Crusade Of Billy Graham

LONDON (AP — An article in the Anglican Church Times today criticized Billy Graham's coming London crusade as "a redundant anachronism." The crusade starts Wednesday.

What 20th Century London needs is "an evangel which lets loose the revolutionary stuff in the Bible on the whole structure of modern society," wrote the Rev. W. Cecil Northcott, editor of the Lutterworth Press and editor-at-large of Christian Century, an ecumenical weekly published in Chicago.

Graham's emphasis on personal salvation is "a debasement of the central concern of the Bible" and "a disservice to evangelism," Dr. Northcott wrote.

The Bible, he continued, is "centered on the encounter of God with man and the perfect meeting of God and Christ. Personal salvation is not the overwhelming fact in the Bible.

"We are living in an evangelical vacuum which the Graham crusade message is occupying with a neat packaged deal wrapped up with all the proper labels. Take off the label and the package is pretty bogus in its contents."

Mother Rejects Burial Site For Dead Negro GI

WETUMPKA, Ala. (AP) — The body of a Negro soldier has been returned home from South Viet Nam for burial but no sites acceptable to the family are available.

Funeral services for Pfc. Jimmy L. Williams are set for Sunday in Montgomery. The burial will take place in the National Cemetery at Andersonville, Ga., either Monday or Tuesday, an Army spokesman said. Williams will be buried with full military honors.

His mother, Mrs. Johnny L. Williams, has rejected the only sites available in Wetumpka's municipal cemetery.

The sites, used by the city for emergency burials and paupers will not do, she told city officials, because "I do not want my son buried in an out-of-the-way place for unknown people. He was not an unkown. He died for you and many other people."

In Washington, the Justice Department said it was investigating the matter.

An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says his group has called for an investigation of alleged segregation.

Wetumpka officials say it is a matter of space — there is virtually none left in the city's century old cemetery.

Mayor Demp Thrash said all plots in both the Negro and white sections of the city - run cemetery have been sold, except for those few spaces along the fringe used for emergency burials.

One plot, in fact, belongs to the Williams', but the family says it is filled.

McDade May Be Shafer's Vote Partner

WASHINGTON (AP — Pennsylvania Republican leaders are reportedly considering U.S. Rep. Joseph M. McDade of Scranton, Pa., to succeed the late Walter E. Alessandroni as their candidate for lieutenant governor.

McDade himself admitted Thursday, he had "conversations" with party leaders about becoming the running mate of gubernatorial candidate Raymond P. Shafer, but he added:

"There has been no offer made to me. There have been conversations, sure, but only conversations."

Several others have been prominently mentioned for the post.

McDade, 34, serving his second term in the House, succeeded Pennsylvania Gov. Scranton in Congress. If nominated by the GOP state committee next month he would take the place of Alessandroni, who was nominated in the primary nine days after he was killed in a plane crash in western Pennsylvania.

Despite McDade's denials of an offer, the Pennsylvania GOP delegation here is discussing his possible candidacy.

Rep. Robert J. Corbett of Pittsburgh, dean of the state's House members, said that substantial support has developed in GOP leadership circles in behalf of McDade.

McDade said he "honestly" wouldn't know what he would do if offered the nomination. His salary as a congressman is $30,000; the lieutenant governorship pays $32,500.

McDade, a graduate of Notre Dame and University of Pennsylvania law school, served as chief clerk to U.S. District Court Judge John W. Murphy and was city solicitor of Scranton from 1962 until he entered Congress.

Named as possible choices besides McDade have been former state Secretary of Public Welfare Arlin M. Adams, State Rep. Robert J. Butera of Norristown, Philadelphia banker C. P. McGlinn and Andrew J. Sordoni Jr., Wilkes-Barre industrialist.

3 Youths To Face Action After Fire

Three East End youngsters were turned over to juvenile officials Thursday afternoon for starting a fire in a 2½ - story frame dwelling on Harvey Ave., firemen reported.

They are to report to James Miller, county juvenile officer, at 11 a. m. Saturday, Asst. Chief James Pelley said.

Pelley said the youngsters ignited papers in a vacant first-floor storeroom at 2027 Harvey Ave. owned by Jennie Eckert. Mrs. Willie Pearl resides in the second floor apartment.

Charles Wolfe, a brother of Mrs. Pearl, was en route to work at Midland and noticed the smoke coming from the first floor. He raced upstairs to tell Mrs. Pearl, who called firemen.

Six firemen responded to the alarm at 1:37 p. m., spending about 30 minutes in quelling the blaze.

Fireman's Pain Launches Weird Chain Of Suicide

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) —Burns suffered in line of duty caused pain to a South San Francisco city fireman.

The fireman, Robert Murphy, 34, hanged himself in a clothes closet of his home Nov. 28, 1964.

The picture of Murphy's body hanging from a clothes pole was see by a part-time South San Francisco City Hall clerk, Lillian Slone, 55. In June 1965, she hanged herself.

Gregory Rogers, 23, a South San Francisco fireman, was in a group of men which cut down Murphy's body.

Three weeks ago, Rogers hanged himself in a clothes closet.

Mrs. Joe Ann Graham, 24, a mother of two, has a brother, Joseph Terron, in the South San Francisco Fire Department. Terron was acquainted with Murphy and Rogers.

Tuesday Mrs. Graham hanged herself with electric cords from a shower rail at her Redwood City home.

"Ive never heard of such a suicide chain developing anywhere before," said San Mateo County's coroner, Paul B. Jensen.

"I'm concerned and I certainly want to investigate them."

Marichal Pitches 14-Inning Shutout; Bowens Bat Paces Baltimore's Victory

The Review Sports

FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1966 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 18

Pirates Edge Houston 3-2; Cards On Top

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

About the only thing Juan Marichal hasn't done yet this season is pitch two shutouts in one day.

But he's working up to it.

The unbeaten San Francisco right-hander was on his way there Thursday, pitching 14 innings before recording his ninth victory and fourth shutout in the Giants' 1-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

"This was my toughest game of the year," Marichal admitted. "I was tired."

But he added:

"I think I could have gone a few more innings."

It probably wouldn't have made much difference to the Phillies. Marichal has been virtually untouchable this season and surrendered only six hits against the Phillies while striking out 10 and walking only one.

Only two other games were played in the National League, Pittsburgh edging Houston 3-2 and St. Louis defeating the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

Marichal was locked in a brilliant duel with Jim Bunning until the 11th inning when the Phillies starter left for a pinch hitter after allowing only four hits.

Then, in the 14th, Jim Davenport lined one to right center off reliever Darold Knowles. Johnny Callison tried for a backhand, shoestring catch but the ball got by him for a triple.

Hal Lanier drew a walk — and it was Marichal's turn to bat.

"I didn't want Herman (Manager Herman Franks) to let me hit and then be sorry for it," said Marichal, "so I went to him and told him, I've been hitting well but I'm not a good hitter.

Franks tapped Jesus Alou to pinch hit and Knowles walked him intentionally. Pinch hitter Bob Barton then lifted a fly to center field. Davenport raced home with the game's only run and Marichal had a 9-0 record.

Manny Mota's third inning homer proved decisive for the Pirates. The victory went to Steve Blass but he needed Pete Mikkelsen's relief help in the eighth inning after Jim Gentile tripled.

Mikkelsen was tagged for a run-scoring double by Lee Maye but eventually got out of a bases-loaded jam by getting Felix Mantilla to hit into a double play.

Cubs' starter Dick Ellsworth took a six-hitter and a 2-0 lead provided by Byron Browne's homer into the ninth inning but the Cardinals came out on top.

Orlando Cepeda singled in the tying run, after an error by Ron Santo had let in the first, and Tim McCarver capped the uprising with a bases-loaded single.

JIM DAVENPORT of the San Francisco Giants slides across the plate with the winning run as Clay Dalrymple, Philadelphia catcher, awaits a throw from Centerfield Tony Gonzales in the 14th inning. (UPI Telephoto)

Indians Score Five In Ninth To Top Tigers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Hank Bauer, in the market for another pitcher, placed his classified ad in the Baltimore Orioles' dugout when he posted the line-up.

And Sam Bowens, perhaps sensing he was in the showcase, didn't waste his chance to impress Bauer's potential customers, the Chicago White Sox. He stroked four hits and drove in four runs in a one-man show in Baltimore's 7-1 victory Thursday.

It was hardly endearing to the White Sox, but certainly impressive.

The Orioles, hoping to entice an extra pitcher away from Chicago, are reportedly dangling Bowens as the bait. In two games against the White Sox he rapped six hits in nine trips.

Bowens delivered a two-run single in the fourth and then drove in two more with a double in the seventh. He had two other singles and also stole a base.

It could be the White Sox will make the deal for him just to keep him from hitting against them.

The victory moved the Orioles into a second-place tie with Detroit which suffered through a nightmarish ninth inning and lost 8-4 to American League leading Cleveland. In the only other AL game, Boston downed Minnesota 7-2.

The Tigers were tied at 3-3 going into the ninth inning against Cleveland. But a walk, a fielder's choice, a wild pitch and another walk loaded the bases with none out.

Chuck Hinton singled for two runs. Then with two out and the bases still loaded after Vic Davalillo's single, Hank Aguirre uncorked a wild throw on Fred Whitfield's dribbler and three more Cleveland runs crossed the plate. That gave the Indians five runs on just two hits.

Jim Northrups two-run homer had tied the game for the Tigers in the eighth.

Earl Wilson won his fifth game in the last decisions, striking out nine Twins.

Rico Petrocelli's eighth home run gave Wilson a quick lead in the first inning and the Red Sox routed Jim (Mudcat) Grant with four runs in the second.

Jimmie Hall's home run and three singles deprived Wilson of his shutout in the ninth.

2 Teams Win In Battles In Little League

Burtucks and Vernon Dell registered victories Thursday in Little League play.

Burtucks pounded out 16 hits in a 14-7 verdict over Parsons Coal to even its record at 1-1.

Clutter and Brown had three hits each and Abrams a double and a triple to pace the winners.

Tom Samples led Parsons' 7-hit attack with a double and a triple.

Benny Gregory was the winning pitcher, while Parfitt suffered the loss.

A big first inning, when three runs crossed the plate, sewed up things for Vernon Dell in a 4-1 victory over Golden Star. The winners made the most of four hits.

Jim Anderson paced the attack with two singles.

The losers tallied their lone run in the bottom of the second.

Joey Henderson, the winning hurler, fanned six and Dave Kyle, the loser, struck out nine.

The Wichita State University field house, with 10,235 permanent seats and temporary seating on the playing floor, had an average attendance at its first 11 basketball games during 1965-66 of 10,042 fans.

Relief Hurler Does The Job

An outstanding relief job by John Finley highlighted Central Service's 3-1 victory over the Realtors Thursday at Colt Field in Tri-State Colt League action.

Finley entered the game in the fifth with the bases loaded and no one out. He pitched out of the situation, a double play, Finley to Campbell to Arrington, and an infield fly doing the trick.

Central Service was ahead 2-0 at the time. The losers then tallied their only run in the top of the sixth. The winners pushed across markers in the third and fourth.

Don Brewer was the winner and Mike Platt the loser in a well-pitched contest.

Brewer fanned 8, Finley 3 and Platt 7. Brewer walked 4 and Platt 3.

Stewart of the Realtors had the only extra base blow of the game — a double.

The Speedex Tractor has been manufactured in Ohio for over 30 years.

SPEEDEX
SPEEDEX Tractor Co. Ravenna Ohio

America's first All-Around Riding Lawn and Garden Tractor

The new S-18 is a versatile tractor that has four forward speeds with one reverse in a combined differential and transmission. Each moving part is either a ball bearing or roller bearing running in a bath of oil. This new S-18 will provide the proper speed and power ratio for your mowing, snowthrowing or gardening. The S-18 equipped with SPEEDEX "Unit-Design" attachments (interchangeable with S-14) can perform with or outperform garden tractors costing up to $300 more. This price difference is the result of the SPEEDEX factory to dealer policy and low advertising costs. This tractor is honestly and soundly engineered. It outlasts and outperforms all other tractors manufactured today.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I cope with the situation when one of my cakes sticks to the bottom of the pan and thratens to break to pieces if I remove it?

A. — Turn the pan upside down and lay a cloth wrung out of cold water on the bottom of the pan. After a few minutes of this treatment, your cake should come out quite easily ...without crumbling.

Q. — What can I do with rusty steelware?

A. — Rub it thoroughly with sweet oil, allowing the oil to remain on for sometime before doing your scrubbing.

Q. — What's the best way to clean a waffle iron?

A. — Scrub the grids with a fine wire brush, then brush with non-salted oil. After this, heat the iron for about ten minutes to recondition it. Soak up the excess oil with a piece of bread placed between the grids.

Q. — How can I deal most easily with some of my cups which are discolored either by tea or by coffee?

A.— After wetting the cups, dip a damp cloth into salt, and rub the stains away with this.

Q. — How can I prepare my own furniture polish?

A. — One very successful one consists of equal quantities of olive oil and turpentine, with a little vinegar added.

Q.—How can I eradicate small scratches on glass tops of furniture?

A.—The rubbing of toothpaste over these glass tops is often helpful, followed then by a polishing with a soft cloth.

A Junior Editors Quiz About YEAST

QUESTION: How does yeast make bread rise?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER. Yeast is a tiny one-celled fungus plant, shown in the upper magnified view as it buds to produce new cells. Yeast can be kept as a compressed cake, with the plants dormant. When such a cake is moistened with lukewarm water, the moisture and warmth start the plants into action. Flour and sugar are added. The yeast changes the starch in the flour to sugar. This is then turned to alcohol and carbon dioxide gas. This process is called fermentation. The gas bubbles through the dough, causing it to rise up in a fluffy, porous mass. Gluten, an elastic material in the dough, encloses the gas bubbles. As the bread is baked, the alcohol and gas evaporate and the yeast plants are destroyed. But the light fluffy structure made by the gas bubble remains, allowing the heat to thoroughly penetrate and cook the dough. Making homemade bread is simple if you do it right. It is so delicious that many young cooks like to take a try at it. We recommend following your cookbook directions closely and getting your mother's help and advice. Remember that the yeast should be mixed with lukewarm water. If the water is too hot, the yeast plants are destroyed and then the bread can't rise.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Pull apart a piece of bread and look carefully into it—with a magnifying glass if you have one. You can see the little holes made by the gas bubbles very clearly.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Every day my husband grabs the newspaper before I do. He reads only two things — the sports page and your column. This takes about 15 minutes.

But he doesn't hand the paper over when he has finished reading it. No siree. He spends another 15 minutes drawing mustaches on all the pictures —then he puts pipes in all the mouths. It makes me boil to have to read a paper after he has marked it up.

Just once I'd like to see what you look like without a mustache and a pipe, Ann. Say something to the big nut. —H. L. A.

Dear H. L. A.: I have nothing to say to him but I do have something to say to you: Order a second subscription. Enjoy the paper with your coffee and let him decorate his foolish head off.

Patient At Large

Dear Ann: A few months ago an Army buddy of my husband's telephoned to say he is now a patient in the veteran's hospital 10 miles from here. He said he had a weekend pass and asked if he could come to our house. I agreed, thinking it would be a pleasant treat.

Well, it has been a series of drunken orgies every weekend since January. I told my husband that I cannot stand it any more and he said, "Shut up. This is my house, too."

Our three children are ashamed to have guests over and I'm a nervous wreck. Last weekend the men got so bombed they couldn't make the stairs. I heard them falling down and getting up all night long. This morning I found them asleep on the floor.

My husband used to enjoy a few quiet beers but he never got drunk until this friend showed up. Please tell me what to do. — LOST WEEKENDS.

-:-

Dear Lost: Go to the director of the veterans hospital. Ask to speak to the doctor in charge of your husband's friend. Describe the weekends.

When the patient is restricted to the hospital (as he surely will be) everyone will be a lot better off.

Storm In Port

Dear Ann: Our daughter who is a senior in college became engaged to a young sailor. Harvey is assigned to a ship at a nearby naval base.

When Harvey is in port, he sleeps on a cot in the basement and keeps his civilian clothes in our closet. I like Harvey but I don't think he ought to be sleeping here weekends and cluttering up our closets with his clothes.

My wife, daughter and I have been having some bitter arguments over this. We all read your column and think you are a fair - minded person. Please settle it. — RICHIE.

-:-

Dear Rich: You are bucking the strongest union in the world — a wife and daughter.

Since he is going to be a member of the family soon, I say it's okay to let him spend occasional weekends at your home and save the cost of a hotel room.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Fourteen police cruisers went to the scene and officers dispersed the crowd. No arrests were made.

Some of the police cars were pelted with eggs and other missiles.

Labor Shortage Blamed On Prestige Job Image

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's shortage of skilled labor may be an outgrowth of man's search for prestige in today's modern world, a labor-management conference on manpower has been told.

"Job applicants, especially young people, don't want to become plumbers, mechanics, or machinists because these don't sound good enough," Dr. Byrl Shoemaker, Vocational Education Director of the State Education Department said Thursday.

Shoemaker and other state officials met with more than 450 representatives of management and labor to discuss Ohio's biggest skilled labor shortage since World War II.

They came up with proposals for both short and long range solutions.

Shoemaker and other speakers listed the expansion of vocational education as one of the best means of meeting manpower demands of the future. But they agreed generally that the situation will get worse before it gets better.

The education official said he believed current prosperity and the attention given by newspapers, radio, and television to "more gamorous" professions has steered young people away from "good, respectable, and satisfying jobs where they use their hands."

Labor and management representatives agreed that expansion of vocational education in the state's high school will produce more skilled labor and noted that after next year, high schools will be required to at least offer such training.

But the labor men went further. Martin Graham, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Building Trades Council, proposed mandatory aptitude tests at the ninth grade level to determine which students should prepare for college and which should learn a trade.

He said present high school curricula is geared strictly for entrance into college although the "vast majority of the students never get there."

"These kids today come out of high school and decide not to go to college and some of them don't even know what a hammer is," Graham added.

William Davies, education and research director for the Ohio AFL-CIO, proposed mandatory, two-year training courses for high school students not entering college. "We no longer can afford the luxury of an untrained work force," he said.

William A. Lloyd, general manager of the Associated Industries of Cleveland, also called for expanded vocational training.

But he said there are several things employers can do to bring more immediate results. He listed establishment of up-to-date training programs, in-plant promotions and transfers, and breaking down of intricate jobs into component jobs requiring less skill.

Ohio Man Seeks To Buy Bahamas Isle Playground

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Millionaire sportsman Merrick Lewis, who heads Alliance Machine Co. of Alliance, Ohio, is dickering for purchase of Cat Cay, socialite playground in the Bahamas.

Some reports put the price at about $1.5 million, although Nassau real estate broker H.G. Christie had the asking price listed as $4.5 million.

Lewis, 41, known here as an ocean powerboat racer, wouldn't reveal what plans he might have for the picturesque, two-mile-long island with five miles of sandy beach.

But he said he was indeed negotiating to buy it.

"It is premature and unofficial to say the island has been sold," Lewis said Thursday. "Actually, there are a couple of areas of disagreement and the whole deal could fall through."

Cat Cay is 30 miles east of Miami and within a couple of miles of some of the best big game fishing waters in the Bahamas.

Miss Jane Wasey of New York City is principal owner of Cat Cay.

The first day will feature registration, beginning at 3 p.m. On the second day a luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. The guest speaker will be David Jeffreys, field representative of the National Retired Teachers Association. His topic will be "A Look At Our National Association."

U.S. Guarantees Safety

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The leader of rebellious Vietnamese Army forces in Hue, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, was flown under a U.S. guarantee of safety today to a secret meeting with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Ky flew from Saigon to meet his bitter rival as U.S. planes evacuated 45 Americans and other foreign civilians from Hue and the Buddhist stronghold's pro-government mayor moved out of the city with 1,000 loyal troops to a fortified headquarters five miles southeast of Hue.

Ky and Thi, whom the premier had fired as commander of the army's 1st Corps on March 10, met at the U.S. 1st Marine Division's headquarters at Chu Lai, about 85 miles south of Hue.

Ky's dismissal of Thi, who controlled South Viet Nam's five northern provinces, precipitated the country's present political crisis. Politically minded Buddhist leaders seized on the unrest the ouster generated in the north and converted it into a movement demanding the military government's replacement by a civilian regime.

U.S. officials had tried before without success to get Ky and Thi together in hopes some agreement could be reached which might lead to an easing of the political crisis.

A U.S. plane brought Thi from Hue to Chu Lai to meet Ky, then flew him back to Hue after the meeting.

There was no immediate indication of what transpired between the two generals.

"All we know was it was a very solid session," an authoritative source said. "They met for some time."

No Americans were present at the meeting although it was held at the Marine headquarters. There were reports other members of Ky's ruling junta were present.

The evacuation of Americans from Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, followed the burning of the U.S. Information Service library there Thursday by a mob of Buddhist youths. A U.S. spokesman in Saigon said the American consul in Hue, Thomas Corcoran, had apparently requested the evacuation, because there was insufficient protection for American personnel and facilities.

The spokesman said half a dozen "essential" Americans remained in Hue.

Two U.S. planes flew the evacuees to Saigon. They included American aid personnel, construction employes, relief workers, teachers, and some Filipinos, Canadians, Nationalist Chinese and West Germans.

Police in Saigon, meanwhile, clashed repeatedly with Buddhist demonstrators but dispersed them every time. One crowd of about 1,000 charged a jeepload of police but shots in the air, tear gas and reinforce-

Bill Passed Setting Pay Minimums

Senate Action Set On Measure Which Broadens Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has given overwhelming approval to a bill that would increase the minimum wage to $1.60 an hour by 1969 and cover another 7.2 million workers. The measure goes now to the Senate where supporters predict it may be expanded further.

The 303-93 House vote Thursday sending the bill to the Senate marked a substantial victory for President Johnson and the AFL-CIO, which hasn't fared too well this year with its other legislative proposals.

In the Senate, the bill's supporters said today they hope to get Labor Committee approval next month. The committee completed its public hearings on the legislation last year.

Supporters said they were confident the Senate would pass a bill fully as broad as the House version and perhaps even extend the coverage to a few more groups of employes.

Senate action is complicated by a vacancy in the chairmanship of the Labor subcommittee which must handle the bill. The post was held by the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich. Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., is expected to be named soon to fill the vacancy.

The bill's managers lost one round in the House Thursday but there were indications this helped consolidate support for the measure.

In this skirmish, the House voted 205 to 193 to delay one year the second step increase taking the wage floor to $1.60. The new date will be Feb. 1, 1969. The provision boosting the present $1.25 an hour figure to $1.40 next Feb. 1 was left undisturbed.

AFL-CIO leaders said they would try to get the Senate to return to the 1968 date for the $1.60 minimum.

Attempts To Burn Home

Warren Man Slays Wife, Four Children, Then Self

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A 31-year-old former mental patient shot and stabbed his wife to death, killed their four children, then took his own life after setting fire to his house early today.

Sheriff Rober Barnett said the man, Michael Collins, apparently killed is family as they slept.

He said Collins' wife, Minnie, 26, was stabbed repeatedly with a hunting knife and bludgeoned before she was shot once in the head with a rifle. Her partly clad body was found in bed.

The four children were shot several times in the head as they slept in their beds, Barnett said.

Collins, shot in the head, was found slumped on a couch, the .22 caliber rifle across his chest.

The bodies were found by Collins' brother, Jake, who lives nearby. He saw smoke coming from the house and broke down a door after he could not raise anybody, Barnet said. The fire was not serious, Barnett said. Smoldering rags were found in the attic of the one-story frame house.

The youngest child, Viola, 3, was shot twice in the chest and twice in the head. The eldest son, David, 7, was shot three times in the head. Andy, 6, and Silas, 4, each were shot twice in the head.

Mrs. Collins was clad in a brassiere and panties. The children were wearing night clothes.

The Collins home is in a predominantly Negro area about a mile from Warren Barnett said. They are negroes, he said.

The coroner, Dr. Joseph Sudimack Jr., gave a tentative ruling of murder and suicide.

Collins, a laborer at the steel plant who had not worked recently, bought the rifle in Warren April 23, Barnett said. But he said "I don't think it had been planned."

Nobody heard the shot, apparently fired between midnight and 6:30 a.m., Barnett said.

Collins had been under treatment at a mental hospital in nearby Youngstown, Dr. Sudimack said. He had been a patient in the hospital in February. Barnett said Collins had not been working recently at the Republic Steel Corp. plant because he said he did not feel well.

Spain Eyes NATO Role, Market Bid

Franco Interested In Economic Links With 6-Nation Gro

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spain again is making diplomatic soundings about tying in with the European Common Market and, perhaps at some future time, with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was reported today.

Diplomatic sources said Madrid seeks early negotiations with the European economic committee on her bid for some form of association with the six-nation continental market group.

Spain also was described as hoping for a NATO link after the troubled Atlantic defense organization takes its new shape. France is pulling out of the integrated military system July 1 and the other 14 NATO allies meet in Brussels June 6-8 to weigh how to revamp it.

It was understood Spain seeks U.S. support in its common market bid and also has made approaches in other capitals. It was reported encountering resistance from Italy, Holland and Belgium, three of the market countries. The other three are West Germany, France and Luxembourg.

Because of its past record with the Axis powers, Spain has been something of an outcast in the postwar political alignment among the Allies. Opposition to Spain's membership in NATO has continued especially strong in north European socialist ranks and Madrid has not turned in a formal application for membership.

The United States has maintained large air bases in Spain, however, and with France's divorce from the NATO defense setup the question of military bases, overflight and other rights in Spain could become increasingly important.

1966 Action Doubted

Congress 'Cool' To Vote Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospect appeared bleak today for congressional action on President Johnson's latest proposals to tighten controls over campaign contributions and spending.

The President's suggestion Thursday for a $100 income tax deduction for political donations got some bipartisan support, but the verdict of many lawmakers was nothing would come of it this election year.

Because of this mixed reception, Johnson's bill seems headed for the same kind of cold storage treatment encountered by similar bills he sponsored as a senator.

At one point when he was majority leader, Johnson introduced a "clean elections" bill and got 87 senators to co-sponsor it. It never was called up for action in the Senate.

The Senate incorporated some proposals similar to Johnson's in a 1961 bill that required fuller disclosure of campaign financing. It carried even fewer teeth than a measure the Senate passed the year before.

Both were pigeonholed by the House. When the Senate approved a $50 deduction for political contributions in the 1964 tax cut bill, House conferees forced it out of the measure.

Chairman Omar Burleson, D-Tex., said his House Administration Committee may hold some hearings on the new Johnson measure, but didn't voice any particular enthusiasm for it. And word was circulating it was too late in the session to expect House action.

Tests Pushed For Gemini's Space Chase

2 Astronauts Study Plans For Revised Agena Target Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Gemini 9 spaceship has gone through three practice countdowns to enable technicians to check its complex electronic systems and inflight procedures.

At another pad a moon landing Surveyor craft was hoisted toward the tip of the Gemini booster rocket as the space agency headed for an end of the month spectacular.

Backup astronauts James A. Lovell Jr. a Navy captain, and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., an Air Force major, were at the controls for Thursday's tests. They took over to give prime pilots Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan time to rehearse what Stafford calls a "far more challenging" flight plan than originally was slated before their Agena target satellite plopped into the Atlantic May 17, ruining Gemini 9's first try.

For Air Force Lt. Col. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Cernan, who plan to chase a substitute target satellite into space Tuesday. Thursday's activities consisted of a detailed review of their revised flight plan and several hours inside a practice capsule.

Rescue Efforts Fail

Weirton Boy, 15, Drowns In Pond

A 15-year-old youth, who apparently became tangled in weeds, drowned while swimming in a pond north of Weirton Thursday night.

He was Bruce Alberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Alberts of Pennsylvania Ave., Weirton.

Authorities said Alberts had gone fishing with three other youths at the pond, located on the Michael Starvaggi farm, and then decided to go swimming.

When he cried out for help, his companions formed a human chain. One youth said he was able to clutch Alberts' hair, but could not swim himself and had to let go.

The body was recovered from about 15 feet of water some 45 minutes later by Lou Pasco, caretaker at the farm, who was assisted by members of the Weirton police department and volunteer firemen.

Young Alberts was a ninth-grade student at Weir Junior High School.

The Steel & Wolfe Funeral Home in Weirton is in charge of arrangements.

Peace Seen Nearer For Indonesians

End Of War Hinted After Friendly Visit By Malaysia Group

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said today a surprise visit by an Indonesian military delegation to Kuala Lumpur promises an end to the 3-year-old undeclared war between the two countries.

"You now can see the ending of the confrontation," Razak said after talks with the delegation of eight high officers.

The Indonesians came to Kuala Lumpur today to complete preparations for peace talks between Razak and Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik which start in Bangkok, Thailand Monday.

The visit has "definitely created a very congenial and happy atmosphere" for the meeting, Razak said, adding the Indonesians now "are ready to make peace and end confrontation."

"They have put complete confidence in us," he said, pointing to the fact that most of the officers in the delegation came from the staff of the "Crush Malaysia" command.

The group, led by Rear Adm. O. B. Sjaaf and Brig. Gen. Kemal Idris of Kogam, brought it a message of good wishes and good will to Malaysian government leaders.

Malaysian officials embraced the Indonesians as they stepped off their plane and then took them to Razak. The Indonesian officers later flew to the northern city of Alor Star to meet with Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman who is vacationing there.

The officers are believed to be the first Indonesian officials to visit Malaysia since President Sukarno launched his campaign to crush the new federation of former British territories three years ago.

Sukarno had charged Malaysia was a device to maintain British power in southeast Asia and thus a threat to Indonesia. Western observers generally considered Sukarno most feared Malaysia would block his ambitions to dominate the area.

Parade Scheduled At 9:30

Plans Set At Wellsville For Memorial Day Rites

Final plans for Wellsville's Memorial Day parade Monday at 9:30 a. m. were outlined during a meeting of the Veterans Memorial Council Thursday night at American Legion Post 70.

The program will open with rites at 8:45 a. m. at the Roadside Park on Wells Ave.

The parade will be led by the Wellsville High School Band.

A flag-raising ceremony will be held at the 4th St. Memorial Park, with Rev. I. Melville Wohrley offering prayer.

The parade will end at Springhill Cemetery, where an "eternal flame" will be lighted. Mayor William Daugherty will be master of ceremonies.

The Rev. James Sanko will offer prayer.

The Gettysburg Address will be read, along with the poem "In Flanders Field."

A firing squad will fire a salute to the dead and taps will be sounded.

The color guard will include William Spires, a World War I veteran, and Dohrman Householder, World War II veteran.

Officers in charge are Dorhman Rosenlieb, Samuel Maylone and Richard Carter, marshals; Melvin G. Boggs, adjutant, and Fred Leughmyer, officer of the day.

Rosenlieb is president of the Memorial Council, which is comprised of representatives from the three veterans organizations.

The city's park areas and the Springhill Cemetery have been readied for the weekend.

Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare said all city fountains have been turned on,, with the statuary in place and colored lights installed at the fountain near the floodwall on Lisbon St.

Chief Urges Caution For Holiday Travels

Motorists planning trips on the long Memorial Day weekend should plan carefully and remember to be especially cautious because the first warm weather holiday of the year is expected to bring out an unusually heavy influx of traffic, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi warned today.

Drivers preparing for long trips should time their departure early — taking into account the heavy traffic — so they will arrive at their destinations on time without speeding or taking chances, the chief reminded.

Those traveling great distances should take regular "breaks" away from the wheel, halting for tea or coffee or simply walking around the parked auto for a few minutes to loosen their tired muscles and shake off road fatigue, he said.

Midland Gets $171,000 In EDA Grant

The Economic Development Administration has approved a grant of $171,000 to aid in the enlargement of the Midland water system to serve expanding industry, Congressman Frank M. Clark announced today in Washington.

The Municipal Water Authority will match the grant, making a total of $342,000 available.

The funds will be used for the extension of water mains, construction of a storage reservoir and to improve the capacity of the booster station.

Construction is expected to be completed within 18 months.

The authority submitted an application late in March.

The next step will be the preparation of detailed plans and advertising for bids.

Chimps Show Space Suit Tear Need Not Be Fatal

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP) — School trained chimpanzees, pioneers in exposure to the airless void of space, are helping the space agency define safety limits for space walking astronauts.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan is scheduled for a 2-hour, 25-minute space walk during the Gemini 9 flight. Data from the chimp tests to date indicate Cernan could be rescued if suddenly exposed directly to the vacuum of space.

The animals are part of the Chimp College at Holloman Air Force Base near Alamogordo. Enos and Ham, astrochimps who rode rockets into space, were trained at the school.

Since 1964 the 6571st Aeromedical Research Laboratory at Holloman has been conducting tests for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in which the chimps are exposed in rapid decompression chambers to simulated altitudes of 150,000 feet. An astronaut would encounter such an altitude should his space suit rip or his face plate break during a space walk.

Alfred G. Koestler, director of the tests, said results are rewriting altitude physiology textbooks. Previously scientists believed direct exposure to space vacuum would result in death, with the blood boiling and the lack of atmospheric pressure possibly leading to the body expanding and even bursting.

Koestler reports more optimistic results with the chimps, generally regarded as the animal physiologically closest to man.

"All our healthy chimps have survived in excellent physical health," Koestler said in an interview.

Contract Action Due On 'Span To Nowhere'

HARRISBURG (AP — The state Highways Department has been authorized to award a contract June 30 for work on piers and substructure for the Fort Duquesne Bridge in Pittsburgh.

The Public Utility Commission issued a directive Thursday authorizing bridge construction from the north bank of the Allegheny River over Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks to a connection on Reedsdale St., which is to be relocated.

The bridge is expected to be completed in time for the scheduled 1968 opening of the city's northside stadium.

Cubans Enter Guantanamo, Shots Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Cuban soldiers slipped through the Guantanamo Naval Base perimeter and engaged in gunfire with sentries Monday night, the Defense Department said today.

A spokesman said the Cubans fired on sentries and the base defenders returned fire. The Cubans then fled with no apparent wounds.

This new incident came only two days after a Marine sentry killed a Cuban soldier who reportedly penetrated the base boundary fence and then fled.

A Pentagon spokesman said there have been 11 such incidents so far this year.

No explanation was given for the increased Cuban efforts to gain access to the base.

After Saturday's fatal wounding of a Cuban soldier, Cuba's armed forces minister, Raul Castro, demanded that the United States abandon the naval base.

In its version of the shooting, the Pentagon said a Marine sentry fired on an armed Cuban soldier when he ignored a warning shot.

Silva Given Backing For Brazil Post

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The way appeared clear today for election of War Minister Arthur Da Costa E Silva to Brazil's presidency — and continuance of military rule — following his nomination as the government's candidate.

Costa E Silva was the only name put before the national convention of the government's National Renewal Alliance (ARENA) Thursday, but 25 of the 361 delegates cast blank ballots and there were a few write-ins.

The government party has a 2-1 majority in Congress, which will elect the next president and vice president Oct. 3. Election day will be Costa E Silva's 64th birthday.

Costa E Silva and his vice presidential running mate, Education Minister Pedro Aleixo, won unanimous endorsement of their party's national directorate after a recent informal poll of political leaders in Brazil's 22 states.

Before the poll, President Humberto Castello Branco told party leaders he considered Costa E Silva eminently qualified for the job.

Until then, some political observers had thought the president might try to torpedo the candidacy of his old friend and military academy classmate. Asscociates of Castello Branco, the former army chief of staff, thought he preferred to be succeeded by a civilian to give the impression the military was relinquishing dominance over the government.

Costa E Silva was an obscure army general until the military overthrew President Joao Goulart in 1964 and he became war minister.

Dodd Cuts Claim In Libel Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd has revised his conspiracy and libel suit against columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, shortening the list of allegations, scaling down his damage claims to $2 million and asking for a speedy trial.

Dodd's original suit, filed May 6, asked for a $5 million judgment against the columnists, whose charges of improper conduct against the Connecticut Democrat are being investigated by the Senate Ethics Committee. Dodd requested the committee investigate the charges against him, saying he had nothing to conceal.

The revised complaint reduces from 14 to three the specific claims of libel and also asks the case be assigned to a single federal judge to speed up pretrial proceedings.

Dodd said he hoped this would permit all preliminary procedures to be completed in June so trial could begin in July.

Storms Rip Texas Areas

By The Associated Press

Cloudbursts and violent electrical storms left heavy flood and fire damage in parts of west Texas today.

Water turned streets into small rivers and lapped over the doorsteps into some homes at Midland, an oil field center of 70,000 people, as an estimated 3 inches of rain poured down.

At Andrews, 40 miles northwest of Midland, muddy torrents flowed six feet deep after 2.75 inches of rain descended in 30 minutes.

Fire started by lightning destroyed a warehouse containing about 2,000 bales of cotton farther west at Pyote.

Small blazes also broke out in at least two houses at Midland as lightning flickered on all sides.

State Police received an unconfirmed report a tornado funnel writhed through the air just south of Odessa. They found no evidence it touched ground.

Flooding was widespread on the west side of Midland and some cars washed off U.S. 80. Police said all motorists were able to wade to safety.

Some witnesses estimated at least 2 inches of rain fell within an hour at Midland. It was accompanied by hail up to three-fourths of an inch thick.

Lightning split trees at Andrews, where both electrical and telephone service were disrupted temporarily.

The storms reached their height shortly before midnight while a wide stretch of west Texas was under a severe weather alert.

Heavy rains fell at many points. A 2.22-inch downpour drenched the area around Hunt, 13 miles west of Kerrville in the southwest Texas hill country. The U.S. Weather Bureau said the resulting runoff would cause a rise of 10 to 15 feet on the upper Guadalupe River.

The rain splashed across the southland from western Texas to the Carolinas and Florida. Nearly four inches of rain doused Florence, S.C., in a 12-hour period.

John Lewis Maola Sr. of Glenmoor pleaded innocent to charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and public intoxication. His hearing was set for June 9 at 1 p.m. Maola was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

William S. Naughton of East Palestine R. D. 1 was fined $10 and costs for speeding and Gary Shaffer of Negley $10 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

U.S. Needs Space Goals, Aide Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief of the manned space flight program says the United States has not been able to catch up with the Soviet Union in manned space flight despite this nation's successes.

In an address to the Aviation Space Writer's Association Thursday, Dr. Georoge E. Mueller also warned the United States is in danger of losing its momentum in the space race unless new goals are established soon.

Mueller, associate administrator for manned space flight of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, says a critical space gap exists although the U.S. program, when set up in 1961, was designed to achieve space superiority by 1970.

However, Mueller said the Project Apollo goal of landing a man on the moon this decade has a good chance of being realized, dependent on the success of ground and flight tests now under way.

He criticized a decline in the Apollo project's engineering effort because of what he called the lack of a definite program beyond a moon landing.

Class Of '66–Best Ever

It is time again for commencement addresses—time for baccalaureates—time for valedictorians and salutatorians.

One message should ring forth repeatedly.

It would be unseemly for the Gloomy Guses of this era to tell young people at commencement time about shortcomings that have been magnified by pessimists and cynics.

It would be tactless to harp on aspects of the upcoming generation that critical members of the departing generation don't like.

There always have been aspects of the upcoming generation that the departing generation didn't like, and chief among them was the youthfulness of the upcomers.

But it always turned out the same way.

The oldsters knew in their hearts the youngsters were the hope of the world. They remembered that they once had been youngsters, subject to criticism. And they remembered the criticism.

Wasn't it wonderful, all things considered, that they turned out to be upstanding citizens and sterling individuals for the most part? To be sure, they had their quota of misfits, failures, crooks, ne'er-do-wells and rumdums, but it was not unduly large.

Neither was it magnified. There was no national obsession about the faults of the young. Boys would be boys; girls would be girls.

No one in his right mind would have dared to say young people were worse than they ever had been before. It was the fashion then to see the world whole, not as fragments viewed in a fun-house mirror.

Class of '66—the best ever.

We'd better believe it, because it's true.

Sound Advice For Motorists

The heaviest traffic of 1966 to date is expected to jam the nation's highways for the Memorial Day weekend as families by the thousands take to resorts or make long trips as part of the first warm holiday of the year.

Well aware that many who start off on happy holiday trips will wind up as traffic statistics, Police Chief A. J. Radeschi has issued a series of worthwhile tips to district motorists.

He suggests that all plan trips carefully, recognizing that highways will be crowded to capacity.

He suggests that all plan trips carefully, recognizing that highways will be crowded to capacity.

He warns that drivers preparing for long trips should time their departure early, taking into account the expected heavy traffic, so they will arrive at their destinations on time without speeding or driving carelessly.

Those on long trips also should take regular breaks away frim the wheel, the chief cautions. Make a coffee stop at a roadside restaurant or simply halt the car at the roadside and walk around for a few minutes to loosen tired muscles and shake off road fatigue, he advises.

It's all sound advice, and if heeded it may help bring you home again safely, ready to resume workaday activities Tuesday morning.

This Makes It Semi-Official

Chances are the next time an unmarried woman is asked if she minds being a spinster she will stuff the questioner's mouth with a newspaper clipping about a study by Dr. Genevieve Knupfer.

Dr. Knupfer is a psychiatrist at the Mental Research Institute in Berkeley, Calif. Her study was financed by the National Institute of Mental Health, which is an agency in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

And what did she find that will cause spinsters—unmarried women, that is—to equip themselves with clippings? Like most studies of this kind, she found what most people know.

She found that most unmarried women—spinsters—are well-adjusted and reasonably contented. If people feel they should shower pity on their fellowmen who are not married, they should save it for bachelors.

Bachelors tend to be misfits, outcasts and oddballs. They are not happy about their lot in life. Rarely do they have the gay old time married men customarily ascribe to them.

That is because married men imagine what they would do if they were bachelors for a while, forgetting they would not be bachelors temporarily but permanently. And men permanently unmarried are not having the time of their lives—not by any means.

They lack the sanguine outlook and easy adjustability of women who are unmarried.

Dr. Knupfer's study makes it semi-official: Waste no pity on unmarried women. They neither want nor deserve pity.

Pick out a benighted bachelor and lavish sympathy on him. He will soak it up like a friendless pup, which is essentially what he is.

Inflation Curbs

By Sterling Green

WASHINGTON

If the administration's wage - price guidelines are on the skids, as many contend, what's to replace them as a better device for curbing inflation?

One idea is understood to be getting serious study by President Johnson's Labor - Management Advisory Committee.

A rough outline of the proposal is the government should give up trying to review individual wage boosts and price increases, and quit trying to apply rollback pressures against those which it believes "violate the guideposts" or are "against the public interest."

Instead, it should identify a few major sectors of the economy which are, or are likely to become, serious bottlenecks because or scarcity of materials or capacity.

IN EACH SUCH sector it should develop in detail policies "to mitigate inflationary pressures by increasing supplies and constricting demands" with the "close collaboration of labor, managements and operating government agencies at the state and federal levels."

The quotations and the proposal itself were made by John T. Dunlop, Harvard University economist, who has first-class credentials as a labor relations expert, mediator, and former wage stabilization official.

Labor sources suggest there is reason to believe Dunlop's ideas were talked over in advance with administration policymakers. His paper, delivered April 27 in a conference at the University of Chicago, contains one scrap of evidence to that effect.

The changeover in stabilization policy, said Dunlop, "should be developed through a reconstituted presidents committee on labor-management policy."

He spoke shortly before Johnson did revive the committee and asked it for advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

THE COMMITTEE will meet again June 3. A six-man task force — two each from labor, management and the public — will bring in its recommendations, if any, for study by the full 21-member body.

Dunlop contends the guidelines, which have been repudiated by labor and attacked in other quarters, had some usefulness in a slack economy but won't work in the pressures of a full employment economy.

Any alternative policy chosen, he continues, must have the respect and allegiance of both labor and management if it is to function. Both sides, therefore, must have a role in formulating the policy.

So far, that's the route Johnson has tried to follow.

In fact, the whole proposal is akin to the informal, emergency bottleneck breaking machinery he has set up under the coordination of special presidential assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr.

It works by such devices as unlocking stockpiled materials, curbing exports and encouraging imports.

50-50 Bet

By Richard Spong

A tax increase this year remains a 50-50 bet even though big business overwhelmingly opposes a rise. Most business leaders fear that profit margins will go down after July 1.

But, as reported recently by the New York Times, most business leaders still like Lyndon B. Johnson. They said as much at the meeting on the mid-May weekend of the Business Council at Hot Springs, Va.

The irony here is that big business is paying little heed to the President's urging to practice restraint in spending. A recent survey by Steel magazine is pretty revealing.

The journal reported on May 16 that 84 per cent of the respondents to a survey of 5,000 plant managers indicated that spending for new plant and equipment by their firms in the second half of this year will equal or exceed that of the like period of 1965. Moreover, 78 per cent of the managers said that spending in 1967 will equal or exceed that of 1966.

THE ADMINISTRATION view is that spending for new plant and production capacity is a major factor in overheating the economy. President Johnson repeatedly has asked for restraint in this kind of outlay.

The business answer to the President is fairly obvious. One respondent to the Steel survey commented: "The appeal leaves me cold since he doesn't practice what he preaches. Why listen to a spendthrift administration's advice about spending?"

President Johnson last January estimated spending by the federal government at $106.4 billion for the budgetary year 1966, up from the $96.5 billion of budget year 1965. It appears now that the actual 1966 figure will be between $107 billion and $108 billion. Yet the boom in business has hiked federal revenues way up, and Johnson apparently will emerge from 1966 possible only a few months ago.

INSTEAD OF THE $6.4 BILLION deficit foreseen in January, the prospect now is for a $3 billion to $4 billion deficit. This would be just about equal to the $3.4 billion deficit of 1965. A smaller than expected deficit would be the administration's ideal answer to the threat of an unwanted tax rise.

Joseph L. Block, chairman of the Inland Steel Corp., on May 16 said that the federal government's application of wage - price guideposts to individual industries was "incompatible with our free enterprise system." Block said that government should attack inflation "through the exercise of proper monetary and fiscal policies."

Most economic indicators still point upward. Some do not. Steel demand seems to be flattening out at a high level. The business letter impact, circulated by banks and other financial institutions, reports that some companies which have curtailed their expansion plans have indicated that the high cost of building and borrowing influenced their decision.

Some Oyster!

New Anti-Klan Law In Offing

By Victor Riesel

This is spring, and in the night the hooded cross burners ride again in fast cars, communicate with walkie - talkies, desecrate their children by thrusting them into Ku Klux Klan meadowland gatherings.

Victor Riesel

In the cities there are factory cell units; small shop organizers; district membership stewards and muscled men terrorizing small businessmen.

Despite the intense hearings before the House Committee on Un - American Activities, despite the testimony of 192 witnesses, despite 36 full days of cross-examination which filled 4,300 pages, the Klan has lost no members, nor its nerve, nor its plans for action.

It still has the capacity to strike with dynamite or oiled rags.

Of all this the FBI has ample evidence, for it still has considerable manpower infiltrating the scores of KKK overt and "cover" units.

The Klan's potential for damage still is powerful, according to federal and private agencies. Only tough, loopholeless laws can halt it.

SOON AN ATTEMPT to write such federal statutes will be made. This should occur within a month when Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-Calif., recovers from an illness and calls the group into legislative hearing sessions.

Perhaps some time will have to elapse until the committee's chief investigator, Don Appel, recovers from a heart attack into which he worked himself during the constant year-long probe and public hearings.

Sometime in June the hearings will start a search for the law which can pull the hoods from the night riders, literally and figuratively.

Most probable proposal will be an act which will hit at the KKK's assault on individual civil liberties. This statute will be at least three-pronged, it is suggested.

First: The bill would have to hit at the KKK oath.

A STATUTE WILL HAVE to be written which will deny any group the right to take an oath pledging any man or woman to refrain from informing the duly constituted authorities of knowledge of a committed crime.

Such an oath would make the pledgees participants, or accomplices, or co-conspirators in any illegal act. Thus, if such a bill is passed, the KKK oath would be wiped out.

Second: Efforts will be made to restrict the use of special radio wave lengths.

This is a refence to the citizen band radios which many Kluxers have installed in their cars and offices. Thus, the KKK men can tune in on police wave lengths and know where the cops are — and how they can be avoided.

Part of this statute will deal with control and use of walkie - talkies, handy gadgets to have for hit-and-run, cross-burning or dynamiting conspiracies.

Third: There will be a registration section.

This would hit at the KKK front societies, the chowder lunch club, the hunting and fishing "covers" for Klaverns.

ALL KLAN UNITS would have to register their members, property, financial records and other vital facts, especially if the Klaverns, etc., operate under official charters.

This bill is in the writing. At the moment there is only one completed proposal before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

It was written and presented for committee discussion by Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga. His proposed act hits at three subversive forces: the Communists, the KKK and the Mafia.

The Weltner proposal would hit at any organization designed to overthrow or seize the government; any organization "which employs intimidation or violence for purpose of depriving citizens of constitutional rights"; or any organization "whose purpose is to plan continued and consistent execution of acts which violate the criminal statutes of the United States."

MR. WELTNER would replace the current Subversive Activities Control Board with a Criminal Conspiracies Control Board. This could cite organizations which commit crimes on the political, social and economic fronts. They could be enjoined from further existence and punished if they reject the action of a civil court.

Whichever bill it will be, this is the season for it.

Oregon Primary

By David Lawrence

Viet Stand Seen Unresolved

The best way to size up what happened in the Oregon primary — in which Rep. Robert Duncan won over Howard Morgan in the contest for the Democratic nomination for United States senator — is to imagine the comments that would have been made if it had turned out the other way.

David Lawrence

For Mr. Morgan, in his outspoken criticism of the Viet Nam War, reflected the views of Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and others who have questioned the wisdom of President Johnson's policy. A Morgan victory would have been construed as meaning the administration had been repudiated.

Actually, there were many other factors in the campaign, as there usually are in primary elections, and it is to be noted that the Republican primary, won by Gov. Mark Hatfield, had also raised the Viet Nam issue, though by no means as positively or as unequivocally as was the case in the Democratic primary.

Mr. Morgan had the ardent backing of Sen. Morse but the latter points out that, if the votes cast in the Republican primary against the Viet Nam War are added to the Morgan vote, the total would indicate that the Republican nominee, Gov. Hatfield, will win the election in November.

THE FACT REMAINS, however, that the Democrats in their primary turned down a prospective candidate who was openly against the administration. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said of the Oregon primary:

"It shows that the people of the country intend to continue their support of President Johnson and want a vigorous prosecution of the Vietnamese War."

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., who is chairman of the House Republican Campaign Committee, made the point in his comments that, while the Viet Nam War undoubtedly influenced many votes, it was by no means the only issue. He observed that Mr. Duncan was the better of the two candidates.

As far as the Republican contest was concerned, Mr. Wilson said he doesn't think that Gov. Hatfield was as "extreme" in his criticism about Viet Nam as Mr. Morgan or Sen. Morse have been.

Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, D-Wisc., expressed the opinion that Rep. Duncan may not have gotten votes because of his position on Viet Nam, but in spite of it, because he was the more attractive candidate.

THE MOST SIGNIFICANT comment came from Mr. Morgan himself. He said:

"I was conducting a campaign under almost impossible conditions — opposing a president of my own party on a war issue when the country was in the midst of hostilities. If anyone had run against the policies of Roosevelt during World War II, he wouldn't have received 3 per cent of the vote."

It would have been a different story if Rep. Duncan, the exponent of the administration's Viet Nam policy, had been defeated and Mr. Morgan had been nominated. It will be difficult now for even the foreign press to justify any inference that the American people are opposed to the administration's policy in Viet Nam.

All this does not mean, however, that Viet Nam will not be a critical issue for any Democrats in the November election. It always happens that congressmen who are members of the party in power are either helped or hurt by the standing of the administration at the time of the election.

If the war in Viet Nam goes from bad to worse and the voters begin to feel that there ought to be a change in policy, there will be lots of votes cast against the party in power—not only by those who think America should withdraw from Viet Nam but by many others who feel the war ought to be prosecuted much more vigorously than it has been.

THUS, THE VIET NAM issue will play a part, but the outcome of the November election will depend also on issues on the domestic side, such as the effects of inflation on the cost of living. It's much too early to tell how the congressional elections five months hence are going to turn out just on the basis of what happened in the Oregon primary or in any other primaries throughout the country. In most instances, the ability and prestige of the individuals counted for far more than did issues of public policy.

Hawk Harasses Hospital Staffers As Mate Watches

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP — A pugnacious hawk who seems to be showing off for his mate is the ruler of the grounds and the roost — a television antenna — around St. Joseph's Infirmary.

Because of the hawk's aerial antics a window washer won't work, priests won't sit in the sun, construction workers post lookouts and dogs slink about with their tails between their legs.

The hawk, with a wingspan of about 1½ feet, first came out of the sky a few days ago and since has harassed workmen outside the building, anyone who appears on the roof, and strollers.

Meantime, hospital officials say, his mate sits serenely in a tree watching the goings on.

The window washer has refused to work until the hawk is out of the area. Priests refuse to use a small sun porch on the roof of the hospital's clergy quarters. Crews repairing the hospital's walls outside keep a steady watch.

Edward N. Cline, a guard at the hospital parking lot, said he saw a big dog run howling down an alley with "the hawk nipping at him every step."

Kentucky law prohibits killing the hawk, since hawks play an important role in controlling rodent and insect populations.

Boy Nabbed For $3 Theft

A 13-year-old Lisbon St. youth has admitted the entry of an East Liverpool home early Thursday afternoon in which about $3 was stolen, police reported.

The boy was cited by Patrolman Orin C. Smith following an investigation into the theft at the home of Mrs. Joan Weber of 914 Alton St. between 12:30 and 1 yesterday.

Mrs. Weber told police the thief obtained the money from a dish in the diningroom. It included a $1 bill, four 25-cent pieces and other assorted change, she said.

Police learned that the 13-year-old had been seen in the vicinity of the home at 12:45 p.m., about 15 minutes before the theft was discovered.

Patrolman Smith said he was en route from Mrs. Weber's home to the suspect's home about 4:08 p.m. when the youth spotted the police car and fled on foot.

The officer continued to the suspect's home and talked with his father. The father promised to take the boy to police headquarters as soon as he was found.

The boy was taken to headquarters about 7:30 last night by his father. Under questioning, he admitted the theft, police said.

He was placed under an 8 p.m. curfew pending his appearance Saturday before Juvenile Officer James Miller.

Southern Local Board Will Meet To Fill Vacancy

SALINEVILLE — The Southern Local School District board of education will meet June 6 to name a successor to Martin Adams, who has resigned from the board because of incompatibility with his post as Brush Creek Township trustee in Jefferson County.

The board, at a special meeting Wednesday night, accepted the resignation of Adams, a farmer who has been a member of the board for some seven years.

A ruling from the Ohio attorney general's office, sought at the request of the board, indicated the posts of township trustees and board of education member are conflicting.

The board named Phillip Maher of Salineville to the vice president post which Adams had held.

Soldiers' Wives Help Train GI's At Fort's 'Viet Village'

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) For the soldiers and their wives in the jungle villages, it was deadly serious — these war games providing Viet Nam-type training for the paratroopers at Ft. Campbell.

But the kids were having a picnic.

The women and children, dependents of servicemen in Viet Nam or facing the prospect of going there, added a touch of realism by living during the five-day maneuvers in six villages scattered through the jungle like terrain of the sprawling military reservation.

The maneuvers end at sundown today.

This is the home of the famous 101st Airborne Division. The division and the fort both formerly were under the command of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, now American military commander in Viet Nam.

"The villages are important in the Vietnamese fighting," an Army spokesman said, "because they serve as intelligence cneetrs both for the Viet Cong and the villagers who are friendly to the Americans."

Two of the six villages, straw hut affairs inhabited by straw-hatted women, are nerve centers for "Thrush," which is the vaguely disguised name for the Viet Cong. The other four are pro-American.

But all of them — in a style familiar to the American fighting men in the area — made dmeands on arriving American soldiers, ranging from trinkets of gold to digging a well at gunpoint. A black market flourished in each village.

The youngsters all stayed with their mothers during the operations, as the 250 wives cooked such things as fresh killed chickens over open fires.

Help Others, Nations Told

GRANADA, Spain (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler today urged other Free World nations to bear a greater share of the burden in aiding underdeveloped countries.

"The progress of development aid should not depend solely upon the United States for stimulation and leadership," Fowler said in a speech prepared for the close of the 13th annual Monetary Conference.

He also called 1966 a year of decision for reducing world trade barriers and for agreements by the 10 leading industrial nations — the so-called "group of 10" — on essential points for international monetary reform.

Fowler mentioned no specific countries which he felt should increase their aid programs, but he said the "appropriate sharing" of international aid should be high on the agendas for this fall's meetings of the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, and the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

ments finally put the mob to flight.

About 12,000 persons reportedly demonstrated for 2½ hours in Quang Tri, capital of South Viet Nam's northernmost province. The protest was directed against the United States as well as the government. No monks were seen in the throng.

The exodus of foreign civilians from Hue coincided with a declaration by Lt. Col. Phan Van Khoa, Hue's mayor and chief of Thua Thien Province, that he had lost whatever control he held over the dissident northern city 400 miles northeast of Saigon. Buddhists and students demonstrated outside his headquarters this afternoon. He is regarded as pro-American.

On his arrival in Da Nang in a U.S. Air Force jet, Ky denounced the burning of the U.S. Information Service library in Hue Thursday as the work of "minority fanatics" and pledged to protect Vietnamese and Americans in the Buddhist bastion 40 miles northwest of Da Nang.

Ky did not say what he would do. But Thursday, after a mob of youths burned out the U.S.I.S. building, he sent 500 troops into Hue to protect American installations, including a Voice of America station that beams broadcasts to North Viet Nam.

The soldiers as yet did not seem ready for any open clashes with the Buddhists. They were part of the 1st Division.

On the war front, American air cavalrymen wiped out a battalion-size force of Viet Cong in 11 days of fighting in the central highlands, the U.S. command announced today.

Units of the 1st Air Cavalry Division killed 311 Viet Cong and captured 29 during Operation Crazy Horse 260 miles northeast of Saigon, a military spokesman said.

He disclosed, meanwhile, several battalions of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division were engaged in a sweep near the outskirts of Saigon with a code name of Operation Lexington since May 17. So far, 29 Viet Cong have been killed, 10 captured and large caches of food and ammunition seized, he said.

Over-all, however, the spokesman gave much of the same picture of ground fighting in the past week: allied forces were combing the jungles and rice paddies in search and destroy operations but encountering only light and scattered contact with the elusive Viet Cong.

Vietnamese Army headquarters reported three brisk fights with the Viet Cong 48 miles south of Saigon. The Vietnamese reported they killed 74 Viet Cong, captured 50 and seized 21 weapons in an operation Thursday.

2 Cars Involved In District Crash

Cars operated by Barbara Jean Webber, 20, of Lisbon R. D. 3 and Paul Eugene Reed, 39, of 229 Louisiana Ave., Chester, were involved in a collision Thursday at 11:55 a. m. on Route 170, nine miles north of Route 30, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said the woman was headed north on Route 170 when Reed pulled from a private drive and also headed north. His car was struck in the rear. The woman told officers the brakes on her compact locked.

The patrol today estimated damage at $250 to a 1959 model station wagon operated by Alvin E. Ketchum, 37, of Salineville R. D. 1 which was struck by a train at Rose Run Crossing on Washington Township Rd. 740, west of Salineville, Thursday morning at 8:55.

Ketchum was southbound when his car stalled on the crossing. He and a passenger abandoned the vehicle before it was rammed by a Pennsylvania Railroad freight.

The patrol said the engineer was Jack J. Wenzel of Cleveland.

Humphrey, 55, Marks Event As 'Happy Man'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey celebrated his 55th birthday today and said "I'm a very happy man.

"Good health, a lovely wife, a fine family, good friends . . . and the opportunity of public service. What more could anyone want?" he added.

Humphrey and his wife planned to fly to their Waverly, Minn., home tonight with Agriculture Secretary and Mrs. Orville L. Freeman as their houseguests.

Mrs. Humphrey has invited 35 friends there to an informal backyard birthday buffet Saturday. The main course will be fried chicken: Humphrey's favorite food'

By Midland Council

Probe Launched In False Alarms

An investigation has been launched by Midland Council and the Rochester office of the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Co. in an effort to determine whether faulty operations of the company's facilities at the new Midland central office may be responsible for several false alarms which have plagued firemen the last few weeks.

At the suggestion of Joseph Hibbard, chairman of the fire and police committee, Council authorized a letter to be sent to the utility requesting reimbursement for the money expended in answering the calls.

Hibbard reported four false alarms had been answered since the telephone company transferred operations to its new quarters on Sunrise Hill.

IN OTHER action, the legislators suspended the youth work for the summer, accepted bids on repairs for seven streets and passed an ordinance providing cable television.

Mayor Eli G. Corak reported that a work survey conducted by the maintenance departments of the borough and school district failed to find enough projects to justify the youth corps.

"The survey revealed there is work to provide employment for only 16 youths over a four-week period. Since there are usually about 100 applicants for summer work, it is felt best to suspend the program this year, rather than slight the 84-or-so youths who will not be hired," he said.

"The work that is available can be handled by borough and school employes over a larger period of time. By allowing them to do the work, we also will save the taxpayers' money," Corak explained.

FIVE BIDS were accepted for study on the repair of portions of seven streets in the community. The streets are Beaver Ave., Virginia Ave., Elm St., Hillcrest (upper level), Midland Heights Circle, Woodlane Ave. and Railroad Ave.

The bids included Acme Paving Co. of Conway, $22,657; Beaver Valley Paving Co. of Beaver, $19,714; George Studin Co. of Midland, $23,157; Pittsburgh Asphalt Products of Conway, $18,523, and Interstate Amiesite Co. of Monaca, $18,806.

Council turned the bids over to Michael Baker Jr. Inc., borough engineer, and Joseph Suffoletta, solicitor, for study.

Raymond Presutti, vice president who presided in the absence of William Vinovich Sr., president, reported, "This will provide faster action on deciding the contract award, thus enabling work to get started on the streets as soon as possible."

An ordinance providing a franchise to Centre Video, a cable television company from State College, Pa., for servicing the borough for 20 years was passed on all three readings.

The ordinance permits Centre Video "to construct, maintain and operate facilities for the transmission and distribution of television signals."

ROBERT TUDEK, vice president and general manager of the company, said the facility will be constructed as soon as permission is obtained to use Bell Telpehone and Duquesne Light Co. utility poles.

He said the cost of the first outlet for the services in private homes would be $4.40 and in commercial buildings $5.50. The second outlet will cost $1, the third 75 cents and additional outlets 50 cents.

The borough building, fire halls and all schools will have outlets installed free of charge, according to Tudek.

Presuitti said the cost of the initial outlet was lowered to the listed prices because council elected to return a 10 - cent franchise award to the customers who sign for the srevices.

The company offered to pay 10 cents to the borough for every service franchise it received, but Council decided to return the money to the customer instead, Presuitti explained.

—:—

JOHN PHILLIPS, a resident of 1050 Ohio Ave., asked council and Tudek to explain the type of facility that would be provided. He wanted to know if it would be a master antenna television system or a community antenna television system, and the difference between the two facilities.

Tudek informed Phillips that the two systems were similar and could equal each other in signal transmission.

"The main difference is that MATV towers are built on extremely high buildings, such as large hotels and office buildings, and sometimes just serve that particular structure. On the other hand, CATV is constructed on a high hill and serves an entire community. Both facilities may be built to provide an equal amount of service," he concluded.

Peter Vuckovich, chairman of the building committee, said work will start on the borough building roof repairs within the next two weeks.

The cost will be $686, with Richard Sherin Roofing Co. of Beaver awarded the bid, he reported.

Acting on the recommendation of Corak, Council approved the sending of letters to the Secretary of Army and the General Service Administrator of the federal government informing them that the land of the old Midland Dam site across the river from Crucible Steel Co. has been submitted to the Beaver County Commission.

—:—

THE LAND originally was given to the borough by the government in 1963 after the locks were eliminated by construction of the dam at Stratton. At that time, the government stipulated that the land must be used for recreational facilities.

After studies showed the construction of this type facility was out of the reach of the borough budget, the Midland officials decided to turn the land over to the county.

Now, according to Corak, who is also a county commissioner, the county has received clearance to use the property for recreational or industrial sites.

Presuitti also reported officials of Crucible Steel have promised to investigate the possibility of helping to alleviate the traffic problems in the borough. They met with the traffic committee Monday.

Council approved its annual contribution of $500 to the 4th of July Celebration Executive Committee.

During the great potato famine in Ireland that began in 1844 and lasted 5 years, 1,500,000 Irish died of starvation or malnutrition.

The association also retained A. P. Morris of Salem, vice president, and Walter G. Scott of Youngstown, treasurer, and named E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the East Liverpool Chamber, as secretary to replace A. C. Patterson of Ashtabula.

Chandler also was given a new term as one of Columbiana County's three representatives on the board.

The association re - elected Scott, representing Mahoning County, and William Regner of Ashtabula, an Ashtabula County representative, and named Robert L. Morton of Warren as a Trumbull County representative to replace Ralph Taylor, also of Warren.

Francis H. Lang, an East Liverpool attorney and charter president of the four - county association, is among four hold-over members of the board whose terms run through 1967.

The others are: Mills, J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown and Patterson. Morris' term on the board runs through 1968, along with those of three others. They are Adam Andrews of Girard, Arthur Cooksey of Youngstown and Frank Koski of Ashtabula.

The association is comprised principally of representatives of service and civic organizations in Columbiana, Mahoning, Ashtabula and Trumbull counties.

It was organized seven years ago to help promote construction of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway, also known as State Route 11, which eventually will link Ohio River ports at East Liverpool with the Lake Erie docks at Ashtabula.

Several stretches of the 90-mile highway already have been completed, mostly in the East Liverpool and Ashtabula areas. Others are under construction, including a link between Route 170 at Substation and Route 267 at Apples Corners, and more are in the planning stage.

Lang, Chandler and Morris represented Columbiana County at the dinner meeting last night.

The nominating committee was comprised of Lang, Mossman and Morris. Julius White, a reporter at the Warren Tribune - Chronicle, was appointed the association's public relations representative.

The association made tentative plans for a meeting in the Salem area in late June or early July. The directors of the State Highway Department's Division 11 and Division 4 will be invited to attend to discuss the progress on the construction of the highway.

Plans also were discussed for a general meeting in the fall.

100 Attend Dinner

Firemen Mark 10 Years In Liverpool Township

Some 100 attended the 10th anniversary dinner of the Liverpool Township Fire Department Thursday night at the Dixonville station.

Jack Conley was master of ceremonies for the event at which Richard Sanford and Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville were among the speakers.

Sanford, president of the Liverpool Township trustees, reviewed the history of the township and the department. Lewis, who has been instructor for the department fire schools, discussed fire department improvements.

The Rev. Edwin McDonald of the LaCroft Nazarene Church gave prayer.

Fire Chief Robert Badger spoke and distributed membership pins.

THE AUXILIARY presented each of the 10-year men with billfolds and money clips. There are seven 10-year men in the West section and six in the East section.

Women attending were given orchids prior to the baked steak and chicken dinner.

The department was formed in 1956 after the need for a firemen's organization was brought before the township trustees.

Among the organizers were Edwin Emmerling of LaCroft and Harry Smith of Dixonville, Dr. F. D. Irwin, township trustees Guy Digman, Louis Sanford and Clarence Garren and clerk Simon Hall.

Because of the geographical nature of the township, with two separate centers of residential areas, it was decided to form two departments — one in the eastern section at Dixonville and the other in the western section at LaCroft.

A bond issue for constructing fire stations was approved by voters and the laying of blocks was contracted by the trustees. The remainder of the work was done by volunteer aid.

FIREMEN were trained in a fire school conducted by Fire Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville, and the first session ended in November 1956. Four subsequent schools have been held, and members have taken part in training classes throughout Columbiana County.

Emmerling was named the first fire chief and held the post until 1961, when he resigned for health reasons.

Homer Cronin is assistant chief for the LaCroft department and Robert Parker is assistant chief for the Dixonville department.

There are currently 45 membres of the two departments. Equipment includes two pumpers, a tanker and squad car at the Dixonville station and a pumper, tanker and squad car at LaCroft.

Humphrey Says Congress Shows Viet War 'Sense'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today Congress is showing its "sense of responsibility" by easing up on the Viet Nam debate.

Congressmen realize the difficulty of the political situation in Viet Nam, the vice president said in an interview, and that is one reason discussions of the turmoil and confusion there have been relatively calm in contrast to the fury that broke out in the Senate over the issues of escalation and bombing.

This is because the political issues are much more troublesome to debate than the military, Humphrey said.

Humphrey noted, "I would imagine everything that can be said has been said on both sides."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, the senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee which was the focus of the war debate, has another interpretation for the relative calm:

"It may be the people who were making the most noise have run out of steam."

"I'm just speculating," he added in an interview, "but it's certainly possible a lot of people who have been so loud in their criticism may be wondering whether they have given stimulis to some of these uprisings in Viet Nam."

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, a persistent critics of administration policy, observed he hasn't changed his opinions despite a lull in his public attacks.

But, he said, "those who are defending our course may find there is little to say. The mess down there certainly has kept the hawks from saying anything; the doves can feel the facts speak for themselves. It now is so obvious a mess."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., one of the sparkplugs for the Foreign Relations Committee's hearings on Viet Nam, said he feels members are aware of the "precarious baiance of the Viet Nam situation" and didn't want to add to the upset by more discussion.

A report was published as far back as 1880 that pointed out a link between smoking and cancer was suspected.

Toll Mounts Across Ohio

Ohio's traffic death toll began to mount rapidly even before the crush of motorists expected on the state's highways for the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

The latest victims:

Byron M. Smith, 36, Akron.

John E. Clark, 55, Akron.

Timothy Scott Dennewitz, 17, Rt. 3, Chillicothe.

Smith was killed as a result of a Thursday night accident. His sports car hit a curb and flipped over in Akron and Smith died within minutes after he was taken to a hospital.

23 Republicans Seek Study Of Draft System

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-three Republican congressmen called today for a thorough investigation of the Selective Service system.

They said the entire draft law needs re-examination because "the manpower needs of the services and the manpower available to the services both are dramatically different than they were when the current draft law was enacted..."

The group, headed by Rep. Robert F. Ellsworth of Kansas, said it would submit five more statements on the draft in the next two weeks.

U.S. Pays $232 For Tuxedos At California Prom

DOS PALOS, Calif. (AP) — The federal government is paying $232 to rent tuxedos and buy dinners for 16 students going to Dos Palos High School's junior-senior prom Saturday night.

Neil Nordstrom, high school principal, said Thursday, "These 16 boys are from needy, deprived families. This will be part of their training in etiquette, manners and cultural improvement."

"This money comes under the Elementary Secondary Education Act," the principal said. "Somehow false reports have gotten out that the money was antipoverty funds. This is just not so."

"The money was obtained under Educational Funds, Title 1. Our board approved the application; we wrote to the State Department of Education in Sacramento; approval was given," he said.

"This $232 is just a fragment of $43,000 which has been allocated to our school for such needs as laboratory equipment, art supplies, maps, books, equipment for physical education and the like."

Dos Palos is in the California Central Valley. There will be some 300 at the prom.

Klan Chief Complains About Being Followed

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — J. Robert Jones, North Carolina's Grand Dragon of the United Klans of America, has the feeling someone's interested in his whereabouts most all the time.

During a news conference Thursday, Jones talked of the state's watchdog committee set up to watch the Klan.

"They follow me like little poodle dogs," Jones said. "I look up every once in a while and see them tagging along. I don't know whether they're following me or not, but they sure are going in my direction a lot of times."

A PLEDGE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day in my opinion is one of the most significant and beautiful occasions of the year. It shows the sentiment of the people toward those who gave their lives for a patriotism which is without a parallel. Memorial Day cannot be too tenderly revered by old and young, by those who participated in one of the nation's great struggles. Our country each year pays greater tribute and respect to the soldier living and dead and we hope it continues in a more expanded form.

Turncoat Made Radio Broadcast Voluntarily

HONG KONG (AP) — Korean War turncoat Clarence Adams said today he acted without prodding from the Red Chinese when he taped two broadcasts for Hanoi telling American Negro soldiers in Viet Nam they should be fighting for equality back home.

"I volunteered the tapes completely on my own," the 37-year-old Memphis Negro told a news conference. "I had no advice. I had no help. I went to the (Viet Nam) Liberation Front office in Peking on my own and made the tapes there."

Adams crossed into Hong Kong Thursday, 13 years after refusing repatriation to the United States.

He said he recorded the broadcasts for Hanoi Radio because "to my understanding the United States is involved in a war there which is not in the interests of the country.

"Negroes are fighting (in Viet Nam) for the freedom of other peoples when they themselves are not free—not totally free. They don't enjoy equality.

"Actually they should be back in the United States joining forces with the people there who feel the Negro is equal and who are fighting to give the Negro freedom and equality."

Adams told a questioner he did not feel his broadcasts put him in the same category as "Tokyo Rose." The American-born Japanese who broadcast for Japan in World War II.

Asked why not, he replied: "Because in Viet Nam Congress has not declared war."

"I do not see where any legal action can be taken against me," he said also.

Adams added he did not expect to participate in the anti-Viet Nam war movement in the United States.

"I am not interested in anything like that now," he said. "I am only interested in seeing my family again and finding work to make a living for myself and my children."

None Injured In 2 Mishaps

No one was injured in two traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Thursday, police reported.

A crash at 1:16 p.m. on E. 3rd St. 20 feet east of Apple Alley involved a 1960 model sports car driven by Robert W. Krul, 17, of Kent City, Mich., and a 1962 two-door sedan operated by George P. Williams, 62, of Shadyside Ave., officers said.

Krul, operating an auto owned by Robert Rogers of E. 4th St., told Patrolman Paul Burson Jr. he was halted with his turn signal operating while he waited for an auto to pull out of a service station. He said Williams pulled around him on the left and attempted to turn into the station, with the right side of the Williams car striking the front of the halted auto.

Williams said Krul was parked, but pulled out and struck the Williams car as the Shadyside man was turning into the station.

The mishap damaged the right door and side of Williams' car, but the other auto was undamaged, police said.

The glare of the sun on a windshield was blamed for another mishap on Bradshaw Ave. 70 feet west of Avondale St., officers reported.

The collision involved a 1956 four - door sedan driven by Olive E. Burson, 54, of Dixonville and a 1960 model station wagon operated by Donald L. Hissom, 56, of 328 2nd St., Chester, officers said.

The Burson car was moving west on Bradshaw Ave. about 10 miles an hour when Hissom pulled from a private driveway and struck it on the left front fender, officers said. Hissom said he did not see the Burson car because of the glare of the sun on his windshield. His car was undamaged.

Bus Strike Fails To Daunt Senior Citizen Tourists

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When 37 Michigan senior citizens were stranded in San Francisco by Western Lines Greyhound strike complications, they responded by square dancing in their hotel's lobby.

"We've had a tornado in Illinois, sleet in the Rockies, a hotel fire in Los Angeles and now this," said tour director Betty Keller.

All members of the Pleasant Hours Club of Dearborn were on a 30-day chartered western tour when Amalgamated Transit Union pickets stopped their bus Thursday in San Francisco.

The bus was operated by the unstruck Eastern Greyhound Lines. San Francisco Transit Union local spokesmen said. "Any Greyhound bus that comes into our territory is going to be picketed." Some union members threatened to lay down in front of the bus.

The group planned to leave for Salt Lake City today — by train.

Cuban Exiles Jam Boat For Florida Trip

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Twenty-nine Cubans were jammed into a 24-foot boat, but most said they enjoyed their voyage to exile.

"The trip was wonderful, but hiding in swamps and jungles for three days while waiting for the boat was not pleasant," said Rodolfo Penaranda, 84-year-old seaman, registering Thursday at the Cuban refugee center. "The mosquitoes were big and hungry."

Penaranda's daughter, grandson and great-grandson accompanied him.

The migrants brought to 122 the total arriving by boat this month, the largest number in any month during a year's period.

Meanwhile, the organized exile airlift continued. The U.S. government-chartered airlift plane returned Thursday without landing in Cuba because of mechanical trouble.

Also, the Cuban exile news service, AIP, said a man who argued with Fidel Castro while the two were cutting sugar cane was shot and killed by a Castro boydguard.

AIP said the victim was Mario Herrera, one of Castro's underground leaders in the revolution that swept him into power. It said underground sources reported the incident occurred when government officials joined in a cane cutting blitz.

Release Motion Denied By Judge

LISBON — Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp, at a habeas corpus hearing Thursday, denied a motion of Albert Lee Tiano, 41, of Beckley, W. Va., for release from Columbiana County Jail.

Sheriff's deputies and East Palestine police arrested Tiano near Darlington, Pa., April 25, as a suspect in the burglary of an unoccupied Columbiana area home owned by Lowell Burke of 778 Woodland Ave., East Liverpool. Tiano was taken before a Pennsylvania magistrate and waived extradition to Columbiana County.

On May 9, he withdrew a motion for a preliminary hearing in Eastern Area Court at East Palestine and Judge Hrebert Arfman bound him over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

Tiano sought release on a claim that the arrest and subsequent search of his person were illegal.

Judge Sharp ordered Tiano returned to jail to await action of the next grand jury unless he can make the $1,000 bond.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — "Molotov cocktails" set four fires Thursday night in Bakersfield's Negro district where racial trouble broke out earlier this week.

In medicine, what is good for one person may not be good for another. Giving your medicine to someone whose symptoms seem similar to yours, could be harmful — even dangerous. Each sickness requires special treatment to fit the particular case — the particular person. It is unwise to save a left-over prescription for future use.

The safe course is to have your doctor prescribe fresh medicine — the exact prescription for the specific need. Then have it filled here for professional service, reasonably priced.

Patrol To War Again On Holiday Accidents

Stepped-up efforts will be made by the Ohio Highway Patrol over the Memorial Day weekend to cut down highway accidents.

Sgt. R. J. Rizzo of the Lisbon post said today officers at the post will be on duty around the clock and will concentrate their efforts in high accident frequency areas. He called for the cooperation of Columbiana County area motorists to help prevent accidents.

Traffic accidents in Ohio accounted for 32 deaths and 1,144 persons injured over the Memorial Day weekend in 1965.

AT COLUMBUS it was announced that State Highway Patrol Supt. Robert Chairamonte personally will head the biggest contingent of road patrol officers ever assembled in the state in an effort to reduce accidents.

The superintendent has declared that he and all other supervisory personnel will be in cars helping regular patrolmen during the 78-hour holiday period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Memorial Day Monday.

Chiaramonte will direct patrol operations involving a total of nearly 900 men. Supervisors' desk work will be taken over by patrol auxiliaries, he said.

They will be helped by State Highway Department personnel who have been directed by Highway Director P. E. Masheter to patrol Ohio's 950 - mile freeway system to help stranded motorists. This will permit the patrol to devote full time to enforcement.

Despite the stepped up efforts, officials of the Highway Safety Department are predicting 33 persons will lose their lives in Ohio traffic during the long, holiday period.

Chiaramonte noted that Ohio motorists averaged 10.4 fatalities per day during the 1965 Memorial Day weekend. He said this year's "full traffic supervision program" is designed to see that this doesn't happen again.

—:—

FOR THOSE who will be traveling over the long weekend, Sgt. Rizzo of the Lisbon barracks offers these traffic suggestions:

1.—Obey the speed limit signs. Remember, speed kills.

2.—Be alert at intersections and railroad crossings. Comply with the stop signs and traffic signals.

3.—Don't stay behind the wheel too long. Stop for a rest at least every two hours.

4.—Plan your trip so you won't have to hurry either to or from your destination.

5.—Make certain your car is in "top" shape.

6.—Don't ever pass over the yellow line and never when you can't see a reasonable distance ahead.

7.—Don't "cut in" too soon after passing. Wait until you can see the car you passed in your rear view mirror.

8.—Don't load your car so your view is obstructed in any direction.

9.—Don't drive after drinking any alcoholic drink. A little alcohol can seriously impair your judgment and driving ability.

10.—Be courteous to the other driver and on the lookout for his mistakes.

Highlandtown's Students Return Following Trip

Forty-seven members of the seventh and eighth grades of the Highlandtown Elementary School and their chaperones have returned from a tour of Washington, D.C.

Places visited included Mt. Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, John F. Kennedy's grave, the tomb of the Unknown Soldier; the Archives Documentary Building, the Smithsonian Institution, the Wax Museum, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the White House, the capitol building, National Airport, the Washington Monument and the Jefferson and Lincoln Memorial.

A "glimpse" of Mrs. Lyndon Johnson in the back yard at the White House was one of the thrills of the tour, according to the sponsors, Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry and Paul F. Barbuto, school principal.

The trip was made possible by proceeds from class projects.

Mt. Nebo Grange Holds Memorial

LISBON — Mt. Nebo Grange members conducted a memorial service Wednesday night, placing on the altar a carnation for each of the 10 members deceased since the last service in 1963.

Mrs. Viola Harrold, lecturer, gave two readings; Mrs. Myrtle McPherson read the 23rd Psalm, led the Lord's Prayer and gave closing prayer; Charles Morlan, Columbiana County Grange deputy, read a poem, and the 14 members sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Overseer Howard Wilhelm conducted the business meeting in the absence of Master Carl Bailey. The Grange donated to two appeals for aid and made plans for the annual strawberry festival June 18. Mrs. Howard Wilhelm is general chairman.

Mt. Nebo will have inspection at the next meeting June 8. Officers will practice at 9 p.m. June 4.

The Demeter meeting was announced for 7:30 p.m. June 6 at the Unity Grange. Mt. Nebo will be host to the county Grange youth banquet July 19.

Matinee Time Altered For Fair Of Boosters

A Saturday matinee at the Beaver Local Boosters Club spring fair will begin at 5 p.m., rather than 1, as originally scheduled, the sponsors said today.

The time was changed because many residents of the suburban area are busy with spring lawn, garden and farm work and would not be able to attend at the earlier time, the club said.

The fair opened Thursday night on the grounds of the Beaver Local Public School near Williamsport. Rides, concessions and a bake sale will be featured tonight. Crowning of a queen is set Saturday at 10 p.m. There are nine competitors. The event will close Saturday at 11 p.m.

Earthquakes Continue In Congo's Kivu Area

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Earthquakes are continuing at the rate of three a day in the Beni area of the Congo's North Kivu Province, Gov. Denis Paluku reported today.

Paluku also said it appeared that only 24 persons were killed in the original earthquake May 22 and not 90 as first announced.

The road to Beni having been destroyed, aid operations are difficult and many families lack housing or medical care, Paluku added.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Our New Overseas Image Via TV

When the late Edward R. Murrow was head of the U.S. Information Agency, he often worried over the impression people abroad received of America via our exported movies and TV shows.

Hal Humphrey

In more backward areas Murrow found the widespread belief that the eastern half of the United States was ruled by gangsters, while Indians and cowboys still were in a death struggle for control of the western half. Murrow even made a private speech out here before movie and TV producers suggesting they should feel a responsibility for broadening this narrow view of American civilization which they had done so much to promulgate.

-:-

OBVIOUSLY the Murrow advice did not go unheeded by the TV industry, a fact demonstrated dramatically by a recent announcement from 20th Century-Fox announcing the sale of that studio's "Peyton Place" series to station KBS-TV in Seoul, Korea.

"The series will be shown twice weekly with Korean subtitles," the announcement added, proving that 20th Century-Fox is interested in reaching all Koreans.

Stimulated by this news, I checked further and discovered "Peyton Place" is being seen in 28 other countries, including Guatemala, Cuprus, Finland and the United Arab Republic.

This should go a long way in quashing the ridiculous notion among those peoples that ours is a land where gangsters and Indians have split up the east and west side of the country between them.

-:-

FINALLY those abroad (thanks to 20th Century - Fox) will see that America is made up of sin - infested small towns largely dependent on the intolerant whims of one man who owns a big factory.

Our teen-agers, they'll find, are oversexed neurotics who occasionally kill each other or marry the wrong mate or (like one girl) cut off their hair in protest.

The adults, of course, are not better off, caught up as they are in petty feuds, sexual incapacities and distrust of one another.

Unfortunately, we can't be sure how the good people of Seoul, Korea, will take this new insight into America. Many of them probably will consider it just more Communist propaganda from the North Koreans.

It's the kind of thing, after all, that the Commies have been saying about America for a long time. It may take some tall convincing from a battalion of 20th Century-Fox press agents before South Korean TV viewers will believe "Peyton Place" is in America.

-:-

NOW THEY shouldn't have any trouble in the United Arab Republic. The things which Abdul Nasser has told his people about us very likely tally quite closely with what they'll see on "Peyton Place" — unless he oversold them on the gangsters and Indians syndrome while we were exporting that culture cycle.

In Venezuela, Argentina, Japan and Thailand the transition from the gangster - Indian cycle to "Peyton Place" won't be so hard to swallow because the people in those countries are also watching "Batman," another TV export from 20th Century-Fox.

Even the most uneducated viewer in Thailand is going to figure out that "Batman" rid America of the scourge of the gangsters and Indians and that now we are able to live unhappily together in "Peyton Place."

THE STUDIO really should make "Peyton Place" and "Batman" a package deal and refuse to sell one without the other to eliminate confusion among old viewers still watching "Gunsmoke" and "The Untouchables," neither of which typifies the America we natives know and love today.

This step forward to improve our image abroad is not going to go unopposed, however. Westerns like "Shane," "Iron Horse" and "The Rounders" are on next season's schedule, as are crime shows ("Men Aganst Evil," "The Hawk"), and efforts will be made to sell them overseas, naturally.

All of which proves that it is a never-ending struggle to keep an honest image of ourselves abroad on TV, as Murrow and the USIA always have known.

Mariner Signals May Continue Through '68

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Signals from the Mariner 4 spacecraft that photographed Mars last July 14 indicate it may function until 1968.

Power for Mariner's small radio transmitter comes from a solar panel aimed at the sun.

Officials at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said signals received from Mariner 4 last Saturday by the laboratory's new 210-foot diameter antenna at Goldstone, Calif., were from about 197.5-million miles in space.

Smoking, Ads Barred In Rapid Transit Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bay area rapid transit district directors voted Thursday to prohibit smoking and advertising in cars of the vast new system they are building to serve the San Francisco Bay area.

Cleaning ashtrays, sweeping floors and replacing carpets would cost $100,000 more a year if smoking were permitted, they said.

ARTHRITIS

Q. Does arthritis run in families?

A. Yes, and this may be a basic clue which could eventually lead to a better understanding of this baffling disorder. A doctor recently discussed the case of a 38-year-old woman with severe arthritis. Four of her five children had the disease. The patient's father and maternal aunt were also victims of arthritis, as were several other relatives. This seems to indicate that there are important familial factors which predispose to arthritis. Undoubtedly there are other and as yet unknown factors which actually precipitate the disease.

AGE AND CANCER

Q. It is true that if you live long enough you will die of cancer?

A. One of the penalties of attaining old age is an increased chance of developing cancer. In general, cancer is a biologic phenomenon related to the decay and degeneration of tissue. On the other hand, cancer usually does not occur in extreme old age. In fact, after attainment of the completely senile state, cancer generally becomes progressively infrequent.

Presbyterian Leader Seeks To Apply Faith To Problems

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The new chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A has pledged to press for Christian unity and for vigorous application of the faith to the problems of modern society.

"We dare not permit our churches to be enclaves of refuge and safety from the world," says William Phelps Thompson, the first layman named to the top leadership of his denomination in this century.

A trim, 5-foot-11 man, with a ready wit and a level gaze, Thompson was elected stated clerk of the 3.3-million-member denomination Wednesday in its first change-over in administration in 15 years.

He is to succeed The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, one of the nation's leading Protestants, who resigned to become general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

Thompson, 47, a Wichita, Kan., lawyer, told a news conference he intended to pursue policies which, under Dr. Blake, brought the denomination into the front lines of social causes and efforts for Christian reunion.

"Whatever opportunities we have," he said, "will be used to further the unity of the church." Referring to current talks for a merger of eight Protestant bodies, with a total of 24 million members, he said:

'This probably is the most important thing happening to the church today in this country."

"We're all very thrilled," said Mrs. Thompson, a poised woman who was accompanied by the three Thompson children, Judity, 16, Bill, 14, and Margaret, 11.

Thompson was elected on the closing day of the church's eight-day governing assembly, winning over two clergymen, The Rev. Dr. Hugh Miller of Dover, N.J., and The Rev. Dr. John W. Heister of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Angelican Scores London Crusade Of Billy Graham

LONDON (AP — An article in the Anglican Church Times today criticized Billy Graham's coming London crusade as "a redundant anachronism." The crusade starts Wednesday.

What 20th Century London needs is "an evangel which lets loose the revolutionary stuff in the Bible on the whole structure of modern society," wrote the Rev. W. Cecil Northcott, editor of the Lutterworth Press and editor-at-large of Christian Century, an ecumenical weekly published in Chicago.

Graham's emphasis on personal salvation is "a debasement of the central concern of the Bible" and "a disservice to evangelism," Dr. Northcott wrote.

The Bible, he continued, is "centered on the encounter of God with man and the perfect meeting of God and Christ. Personal salvation is not the overwhelming fact in the Bible.

"We are living in an evangelical vacuum which the Graham crusade message is occupying with a neat packaged deal wrapped up with all the proper labels. Take off the label and the package is pretty bogus in its contents."

Mother Rejects Burial Site For Dead Negro GI

WETUMPKA, Ala. (AP) — The body of a Negro soldier has been returned home from South Viet Nam for burial but no sites acceptable to the family are available.

Funeral services for Pfc. Jimmy L. Williams are set for Sunday in Montgomery. The burial will take place in the National Cemetery at Andersonville, Ga., either Monday or Tuesday, an Army spokesman said. Williams will be buried with full military honors.

His mother, Mrs. Johnny L. Williams, has rejected the only sites available in Wetumpka's municipal cemetery.

The sites, used by the city for emergency burials and paupers will not do, she told city officials, because "I do not want my son buried in an out-of-the-way place for unknown people. He was not an unkown. He died for you and many other people."

In Washington, the Justice Department said it was investigating the matter.

An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says his group has called for an investigation of alleged segregation.

Wetumpka officials say it is a matter of space — there is virtually none left in the city's century old cemetery.

Mayor Demp Thrash said all plots in both the Negro and white sections of the city - run cemetery have been sold, except for those few spaces along the fringe used for emergency burials.

One plot, in fact, belongs to the Williams', but the family says it is filled.

McDade May Be Shafer's Vote Partner

WASHINGTON (AP — Pennsylvania Republican leaders are reportedly considering U.S. Rep. Joseph M. McDade of Scranton, Pa., to succeed the late Walter E. Alessandroni as their candidate for lieutenant governor.

McDade himself admitted Thursday, he had "conversations" with party leaders about becoming the running mate of gubernatorial candidate Raymond P. Shafer, but he added:

"There has been no offer made to me. There have been conversations, sure, but only conversations."

Several others have been prominently mentioned for the post.

McDade, 34, serving his second term in the House, succeeded Pennsylvania Gov. Scranton in Congress. If nominated by the GOP state committee next month he would take the place of Alessandroni, who was nominated in the primary nine days after he was killed in a plane crash in western Pennsylvania.

Despite McDade's denials of an offer, the Pennsylvania GOP delegation here is discussing his possible candidacy.

Rep. Robert J. Corbett of Pittsburgh, dean of the state's House members, said that substantial support has developed in GOP leadership circles in behalf of McDade.

McDade said he "honestly" wouldn't know what he would do if offered the nomination. His salary as a congressman is $30,000; the lieutenant governorship pays $32,500.

McDade, a graduate of Notre Dame and University of Pennsylvania law school, served as chief clerk to U.S. District Court Judge John W. Murphy and was city solicitor of Scranton from 1962 until he entered Congress.

Named as possible choices besides McDade have been former state Secretary of Public Welfare Arlin M. Adams, State Rep. Robert J. Butera of Norristown, Philadelphia banker C. P. McGlinn and Andrew J. Sordoni Jr., Wilkes-Barre industrialist.

3 Youths To Face Action After Fire

Three East End youngsters were turned over to juvenile officials Thursday afternoon for starting a fire in a 2½ - story frame dwelling on Harvey Ave., firemen reported.

They are to report to James Miller, county juvenile officer, at 11 a. m. Saturday, Asst. Chief James Pelley said.

Pelley said the youngsters ignited papers in a vacant first-floor storeroom at 2027 Harvey Ave. owned by Jennie Eckert. Mrs. Willie Pearl resides in the second floor apartment.

Charles Wolfe, a brother of Mrs. Pearl, was en route to work at Midland and noticed the smoke coming from the first floor. He raced upstairs to tell Mrs. Pearl, who called firemen.

Six firemen responded to the alarm at 1:37 p. m., spending about 30 minutes in quelling the blaze.

Fireman's Pain Launches Weird Chain Of Suicide

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) —Burns suffered in line of duty caused pain to a South San Francisco city fireman.

The fireman, Robert Murphy, 34, hanged himself in a clothes closet of his home Nov. 28, 1964.

The picture of Murphy's body hanging from a clothes pole was see by a part-time South San Francisco City Hall clerk, Lillian Slone, 55. In June 1965, she hanged herself.

Gregory Rogers, 23, a South San Francisco fireman, was in a group of men which cut down Murphy's body.

Three weeks ago, Rogers hanged himself in a clothes closet.

Mrs. Joe Ann Graham, 24, a mother of two, has a brother, Joseph Terron, in the South San Francisco Fire Department. Terron was acquainted with Murphy and Rogers.

Tuesday Mrs. Graham hanged herself with electric cords from a shower rail at her Redwood City home.

"Ive never heard of such a suicide chain developing anywhere before," said San Mateo County's coroner, Paul B. Jensen.

"I'm concerned and I certainly want to investigate them."

Marichal Pitches 14-Inning Shutout; Bowens Bat Paces Baltimore's Victory

The Review Sports

FRIDAY, MAY 27, 1966 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 18

Pirates Edge Houston 3-2; Cards On Top

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

About the only thing Juan Marichal hasn't done yet this season is pitch two shutouts in one day.

But he's working up to it.

The unbeaten San Francisco right-hander was on his way there Thursday, pitching 14 innings before recording his ninth victory and fourth shutout in the Giants' 1-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

"This was my toughest game of the year," Marichal admitted. "I was tired."

But he added:

"I think I could have gone a few more innings."

It probably wouldn't have made much difference to the Phillies. Marichal has been virtually untouchable this season and surrendered only six hits against the Phillies while striking out 10 and walking only one.

Only two other games were played in the National League. Pittsburgh edging Houston 3-2 and St. Louis defeating the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

Marichal was locked in a brilliant duel with Jim Bunning until the 11th inning when the Phillies starter left for a pinch hitter after allowing only four hits.

Then, in the 14th, Jim Davenport lined one to right center off reliever Darold Knowles. Johnny Callison tried for a backhand, shoestring catch but the ball got by him for a triple.

Hal Lanier drew a walk — and it was Marichal's turn to bat.

"I didn't want Herman (Manager Herman Franks) to let me hit and then be sorry for it," said Marichal, "so I went to him and told him. I've been hitting well but I'm not a good hitter.

Franks tapped Jesus Alou to pinch hit and Knowles walked him intentionally. Pinch hitter Bob Barton then lifted a fly to center field. Davenport raced home with the game's only run and Marichal had a 9-0 record.

Manny Mota's third inning homer proved decisive for the Pirates. The victory went to Steve Blass but he needed Pete Mikkelsen's relief help in the eighth inning after Jim Gentile tripled.

Mikkelsen was tagged for a run-scoring double by Lee Maye but eventually got out of a bases-loaded jam by getting Felix Mantilla to hit into a double play.

Cubs' starter Dick Ellsworth took a six-hitter and a 2-0 lead provided by Byron Browne's homer into the ninth inning but the Cardinals came out on top.

Orlando Cepeda singled in the tying run, after an error by Ron Santo had let in the first, and Tim McCarver capped the uprising with a bases-loaded single.

Action Continues In District Loop

HIGHLANDTOWN — In Little League action Thursday, the Salineville Chiefs defeated the Highlandtown Apaches, 2-1. The winning pitcher was Seary and the losing pitcher Chick Jarvis. Ellenbach homered for the Chiefs.

At Salineville, the Irondale Pirates defeated the Salineville Cubs, 12-6. The winning pitcher was J. Russell, the losing pitcher M. Hirst. John Beadnell homered for the Cubs.

The Highlandtown Colts defeated the Hammondsville Red Sox, 7-4, at Hammondsville. The winning pitcher was Scott Boyd, the losing pitcher Gene Furbee. Boyd homered for the Colts.

Richie Ashburn of the Phillies set a major league record for fewest runs batted in by an outfielder with 20 in 150 games in 1939.

Elmer Valo appeared in 81 games as a pinch-hitter in 1960 for the New York Yankees and Washington Senators to set a major league record.

JIM DAVENPORT of the San Francisco Giants slides across the plate with the winning run as Clay Dalrymple, Philadelphia catcher, awaits a throw from Centerfield Tony Gonzales in the 14th inning. (UPI Telephoto)

2 Teams Win In Battles In Little League

Burbicks and Vernon Dell registered victories Thursday in Little League play.

Burbicks pounded out 16 hits in a 14-7 verdict over Parsons Coal to even its record at 1-1.

Clutter and Brown had three hits each and Abrams a double and a triple to pace the winners.

Tom Samples led Parsons' 7-hit attack with a double and a triple.

Benny Gregory was the winning pitcher, while Parfitt suffered the loss.

A big first inning, when three runs crossed the plate, sewed up things for Vernon Dell in a 4-1 victory over Golden Star. The winners made the most of four hits.

Jim Anderson paced the attack with two singles.

The losers tallied their lone run in the bottom of the second.

Joey Henderson, the winning hurler, fanned six and Dave Kyle, the loser, struck out nine.

The Wichita State University field house, with 10,235 permanent seats and temporary seating on the playing floor, had an average attendance at its first 11 basketball games during 1965-66 of 10,842 fans.

Relief Hurler Does The Job

An outstanding relief job by John Finley highlighted Central Service's 2-1 victory over the Realtors Thursday at Colt Field in Tri-State Colt League action.

Finley entered the game in the fifth with the bases loaded and no one out. He pitched out of the situation, a double play, Finley to Campbell to Arrington, and an infield fly doing the trick.

Central Service was ahead 2-0 at the time. The losers then tallied their only run in the top of the sixth. The winners pushed across markers in the third and fourth.

Don Brewer was the winner and Mike Piatt the loser in a well-pitched contest.

Brewer fanned 8, Finley 3 and Piatt 7. Brewer walked 4 and Piatt 3.

Stewart of the Realtors had the only extra base blow of the game — a double.

Indians Score Five In Ninth To Top Tigers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Hank Bauer, in the market for another pitcher, placed his classified ad in the Baltimore Orioles' dugout when he posted the line-up.

And Sam Bowens, perhaps sensing he was in the showcase, didn't waste his chance to impress Bauer's potential customers, the Chicago White Sox. He stroked four hits and drove in four runs in a one-man show in Baltimore's 7-1 victory Thursday.

It was hardly endearing to the White Sox, but certainly impressive.

The Orioles, hoping to entice an extra pitcher away from Chicago, are reportedly dangling Bowens as the bait. In two games against the White Sox he rapped six hits in nine trips.

Bowens delivered a two-run single in the fourth and then drove in two more with a double in the seventh. He had two other singles and also stole a base.

It could be the White Sox will make the deal for him just to keep him from hitting against them.

The victory moved the Orioles into a second-place tie with Detroit which suffered through a nightmarish ninth inning and lost 8-4 to American League leading Cleveland. In the only other AL game, Boston downed Minnesota 7-2.

The Tigers were tied at 3-3 going into the ninth inning against Cleveland. But a walk, a fielder's choice, a wild pitch and another walk loaded the bases with none out.

Chuck Hinton singled for two runs. Then with two out and the bases still loaded after Vic Davalillo's single, Hank Aguirre uncorked a wild throw on Fred Whitfield's dribbler and three more Cleveland runs crossed the plate. That gave the Indians five runs on just two hits.

Jim Northrups two-run homer had tied the game for the Tigers in the eighth.

Earl Wilson won his fifth game in the last decisions, striking out nine Twins.

Rico Petrocelli's eighth home run gave Wilson a quick lead in the first inning and the Red Sox routed Jim (Mudcat) Grant with four runs in the second.

Jimmie Hall's home run and three singles deprived Wilson of his shutout in the ninth.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Juan Marichal, Giants, pitched his second straight shutout and fourth of the season, beating Philadelphia 1-0 in 14 innings. He has allowed only one run in the last 42 innings and shows an earned run average of 0.59.

BATTING — Sam Bowens, Orioles, drove in four runs with three singles and a double as Baltimore defeated Chicago 7-1. He also stole a base.

Yank Netters 'Underdogs'

PARIS (AP) — Lester Sack, the least-known member of the American contingent, meets the top man in the game today when he plays Australia's Roy Emerson in the French international tennis tournament.

Sack, of Clarksdale, Miss., is ranked 38th. Emerson is regarded as the world's No. 1 amateur.

Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., also will be underdogs. Graebner plays John Newcombe of Australia, seeded fifth in the tournament, while McManus faces Tom Okker of Holland, seeded No. 16.

Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., the top-ranking U.S. player, and Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., will be favored to win. Ralston's opponent will be Juan Manuel Couder of Spain. Richey is scheduled to oppose Nikola Spear of Yugoslavia.

Richey, Graebner and McManus won second-round matches Thursday.

Richey whipped Alexander Likhatchev of Russia 6-2, 6-3, 7-5. Graebner beat Daniel Contet of France 6-3, 6-3, 6-8, 8-6 in a match that had been interrupted by darkness Wednesday. McManus ousted Koji Watanabe of Japan 11-9, 4-6, 10-8, 6-4.

In women's play, Nancy Richey of Dallas, beat Francesca Gordigiani of Italy, 6-0, 6-1 in a second-round match. Kathleen Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., was defeated by Karen Krantzke of Australia, 6-1, 8-10, 6-2.

The longest ride on the world's smallest subway lasts only a minute. It is from the Capitol in Washington to nearby legislative office buildings.

Bobby Hull Receives Hart Hockey Trophy

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull is the National Hockey League's Most Valuable Player for the second straight year, but he has a long way to go to equal the number of Hart Trophies won by Detroit's Gordie Howe.

Hull, who broke one-season records by scoring 54 goals and collecting 97 points, was named winner of the Hart Trophy for 1965-66 Thursday. The 38-year-old Howe, six-time MVP, was third in the voting behind Jean Beliveau of Montreal.

A Junior Editors Quiz About YEAST

QUESTION: How does yeast make bread rise?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER. Yeast is a tiny one-celled fungus plant, shown in the upper magnified view as it buds to produce new cells. Yeast can be kept as a compressed cake, with the plants dormant. When such a cake is moistened with lukewarm water, the moisture and warmth start the plants into action. Flour and sugar are added. The yeast changes the starch in the flour to sugar. This is then turned to alcohol and carbon dioxide gas. This process is called fermentation. The gas bubbles through the dough, causing it to rise up in a fluffy, porous mass. Gluten, an elastic material in the dough, encloses the gas bubbles. As the bread is baked, the alcohol and gas evaporate and the yeast plants are destroyed. But the light fluffy structure made by the gas bubble remains, allowing the heat to thoroughly penetrate and cook the dough. Making homemade bread is simple if you do it right. It is so delicious that many young cooks like to take a try at it. We recommend following your cookbook directions closely and getting your mother's help and advice. Remember that the yeast should be mixed with lukewarm water. If the water is too hot, the yeast plants are destroyed and then the bread can't rise.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Pull apart a piece of bread and look carefully into it—with a magnifying glass if you have one. You can see the little holes made by the gas bubbles very clearly.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I cope with the situation when one of my cakes sticks to the bottom of the pan and thratens to break to pieces if I remove it?

A. — Turn the pan upside down and lay a cloth wrung out of cold water on the bottom of the pan. After a few minutes of this treatment, your cake should come out quite easily ...without crumbling.

Q. — What can I do with rusty steelware?

A. — Rub it thoroughly with sweet oil, allowing the oil to remain on for sometime before doing your scrubbing.

Q. — What's the best way to clean a waffle iron?

A. — Scrub the grids with a fine wire brush, then brush with non-salted oil. After this, heat the iron for about ten minutes to recondition it. Soak up the excess oil with a piece of bread placed between the grids.

Q. — How can I deal most easily with some of my cups which are discolored either by tea or by coffee?

A.— After wetting the cups, dip a damp cloth into salt, and rub the stains away with this.

Q. — How can I prepare my own furniture polish?

A. — One very successful one consists of equal quantities of olive oil and turpentine, with a little vinegar added.

Q.—How can I eradicate small scratches on glass tops of furniture?

A.—The rubbing of toothpaste over these glass tops is often helpful, followed then by a polishing with a soft cloth.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Every day my husband grabs the newspaper before I do. He reads only two things — the sports page and your column. This takes about 15 minutes.

But he doesn't hand the paper over when he has finished reading it. No siree. He spends another 15 minutes drawing mustaches on all the pictures —then he puts pipes in all the mouths. It makes me boil to have to read a paper after he has marked it up.

Just once I'd like to see what you look like without a mustache and a pipe, Ann. Say something to the big nut. —H. L. A.

Dear H. L. A.: I have nothing to say to him but I do have something to say to you: Order a second subscription. Enjoy the paper with your coffee and let him decorate his foolish head off.

Patient At Large

Dear Ann: A few months ago an Army buddy of my husband's telephoned to say he is now a patient in the veteran's hospital 10 miles from here. He said he had a weekend pass and asked if he could come to our house. I agreed, thinking it would be a pleasant treat.

Well, it has been a series of drunken orgies every weekend since January. I told my husband that I cannot stand it any more and he said, "Shut up. This is my house, too."

Our three children are ashamed to have guests over and I'm a nervous wreck. Last weekend the men got so bombed they couldn't make the stairs. I heard them falling down and getting up all night long. This morning I found them asleep on the floor.

My husband used to enjoy a few quiet beers but he never got drunk until this friend showed up. Please tell me what to do. — LOST WEEKENDS.

Dear Lost: Go to the director of the veterans hospital. Ask to speak to the doctor in charge of your husband's friend. Describe the weekends.

When the patient is restricted to the hospital (as he surely will be) everyone will be a lot better off.

Storm In Port

Dear Ann: Our daughter who is a senior in college became engaged to a young sailor. Harvey is assigned to a ship at a nearby naval base.

When Harvey is in port, he sleeps on a cot in the basement and keeps his civilian clothes in our closet. I like Harvey but I don't think he ought to be sleeping here weekends and cluttering up our closets with his clothes.

My wife, daughter and I have been having some bitter arguments over this. We all read your column and think you are a fair - minded person. Please settle it. — RICHIE.

Dear Rich: You are bucking the strongest union in the world — a wife and daughter. Since he is going to be a member of the family soon, I say it's okay to let him spend occasional weekends at your home and save the cost of a hotel room.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Students Stage Denver Protest

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Several hundred University of Denver students milled about a major intersection near the school early today in a 45-minute demonstration on the subjects of universal military service and beer.

Fourteen police cruisers went to the scene and officers dispersed the crowd. No arrests were made.

The demonstrators carried placards and shouted their opposition to Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's universal service proposal and a university refusal to allow the serving of beer in the Student Union.

Some of the police cars were pelted with eggs and other missiles.

Labor Shortage Blamed On Prestige Job Image

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's shortage of skilled labor may be an outgrowth of man's search for prestige in today's modern world, a labor-management conference on manpower has been told.

"Job applicants, especially young people, don't want to become plumbers, mechanics, or machinists because these don't sound good enough," Dr. Byrl Shoemaker, Vocational Education Director of the State Education Department said Thursday.

Shoemaker and other state officials met with more than 450 representatives of management and labor to discuss Ohio's biggest skilled labor shortage since World War II.

They came up with proposals for both short and long range solutions.

Shoemaker and other speakers listed the expansion of vocational education as one of the best means of meeting manpower demands of the future. But they agreed generally that the situation will get worse before it gets better.

The education official said he believed current prosperity and the attention given by newspapers, radio, and television to "more gamorous" professions has steered young people away from "good, respectable, and satisfying jobs where they use their hands."

Labor and management representatives agreed that expansion of vocational education in the state's high school will produce more skilled labor and noted that after next year, high schools will be required to at least offer such training.

But the labor men went further. Martin Graham, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Building Trades Council, proposed mandatory aptitude tests at the ninth grade level to determine which students should prepare for college and which should learn a trade.

He said present high school curricula is geared strictly for entrance into college although the "vast majority of the students never get there."

"These kids today come out of high school and decide not to go to college and some of them don't even know what a hammer is," Graham added.

William Davies, education and research director for the Ohio AFL-CIO, proposed mandatory, two-year training courses for high school students not entering college. "We no longer can afford the luxury of an untrained work force," he said.

William A. Lloyd, general manager of the Associated Industries of Cleveland, also called for expanded vocational training.

But he said there are several things employers can do to bring more immediate results. He listed establishment of up-to-date training programs, in-plant promotions and transfers, and breaking down of intricate jobs into component jobs requiring less skill.

Ohio Man Seeks To Buy Bahamas Isle Playground

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Millionaire sportsman Merrick Lewis, who heads Alliance Machine Co. of Alliance, Ohio, is dickering for purchase of Cat Cay, socialite playground in the Bahamas.

Some reports put the price at about $1.5 million, although Nassau real estate broker H.G. Christie had the asking price listed as $4.5 million.

Lewis, 41, known here as an ocean powerboat racer, wouldn't reveal what plans he might have for the picturesque, two-mile-long island with five miles of sandy beach.

But he said he was indeed negotiating to buy it.

"It is premature and unofficial to say the island has been sold," Lewis said Thursday. "Actually, there are a couple of areas of disagreement and the whole deal could fall through."

Cat Cay is 30 miles east of Miami and within a couple of miles of some of the best big game fishing waters in the Bahamas.

Miss Jane Wasey of New York City is principal owner of Cat Cay.

School Group Makes Plans For Meeting

Plans are being made for the meeting of the Hancock County Retired School Employes on June 14 at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. P. D. Brewer of Weirton. A coverdish picnic will be featured.

A highlight will be the installation of officers, headed by Mrs. Ted Cwiczynski, newly-elected president of the Hancock County Council of the Parent - Teacher Association.

Members of the association are urged to attend the annual council meeting of the West Virginia Association of Retired School Employes at Wilson Lodge, Oglebay Park, June 6 and 7.

The first day will feature registration, beginning at 3 p.m. On the second day a luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. The guest speaker will be David Jeffreys, field representative of the National Retired Teachers Association. His topic will be "A Look At Our National Association."
